This document is a compilation of observations of celestial and earthly events arranged to illustrate flawed rationalizations and related books regarding the Bible. The events demonstrate the authenticity of the Greatest Story Ever Told. The celestial events that correspond to the earthly events demonstrate the ancient wisdom “As Above, So Below” and illustrate how such correlations came to be Sacred Scripture. A complete introduction to the foundation of the metaphysics is not feasible in this document but the reader is asked to apply common sense rather than common knowledge, as foreknowledge shadows truth.

Human civilizations have struggled with common sense for well over 20,000 years. The struggle is with the mythical Harlot of Babylon, a metaphor for seduction by rational desire. When we seek rational truth we are often tempted toward righteousness at the expense of rightness. Righteousness is literal based, while rightness is sense based. Before the man-child (reason) can mature he must learn how to relate sense based communications found in literal recordings and through the sense based correspondence release himself from the bondage of veiled intention in the righteousness intent of rational discourse. The so-called Age of Reason is, in reality, many stages of rationalizations of words and symbols for which the original sensation has become irrelevant compared to the intent to rationalize by correlation to prior rationalizations. Sensations become literally untrue. This self identifying process establishes “perfect fitting boxes” for memory content and then piles these boxes on top of each other as a Tower of Babel.

Five events on earth and the celestial Synchronicity for the events will be replayed. These then are to be used to test the creation of self identity that leads righteousness to stray from rightness. Books prepared as arguments against the Greatest Story Ever Told are used as the battlefield to show how ancient souls were denied because the rationalizing authors do not “make sense” of what they literally assert.

This essay correlates the work of Sir William Drummond titled Oedipus Judaicus (1811) with the occasion of the total solar eclipse of July 11, 2010 over the South Pacific. The path of totality passed over Rapa Nui, which the native people called the “Navel of the World” and the Europeans called Easter Island. The interpretation of the Biblical books Genesis 49 and Joshua were employed by Drummond to demonstrate that the Hebrew Scriptures were the consequence of an “addiction to astrology.” The July 11, 2010 eclipse is pertinent because it will demonstrate that the Old People of the Earth had applied a form of logic far superior to the enslaved logic of the Age of Reason, of which Sir William Drummond is an excellent example. The Age of Reason has reshaped the whole post Renaissance and post Protestant Reformation world that has witnessed domination by the Europeans until after September 11, 2001. Although this essay cannot present all the “reasons” for the presentations it makes, it will demonstrate an Age of Reason that began with the Crossing of the Reed Sea in the Exodus from Egypt and subsequently mastered the Earth in stages of “reason.”

The Age of Reason; Being an Investigation of True and Fabulous Theology is a deistic pamphlet, written by eighteenth-century British radical and American revolutionary Thomas Paine that criticizes institutionalized religion and challenges the legitimacy of the Bible. The following quotation from the Answers.com article titled Age of Reason will set the stage for what is about to be unfolded.

Reason and revelation

Paine begins The Age of Reason by attacking revelation. Revelation, he maintains, can only be verified by the individual receivers of the message and is therefore weak evidence for God's existence. Paine rejects prophecies and miracles, writing: "it is revelation to the first person only, and hearsay to every other, and consequently they are not obliged to believe it". He also points out that the Christian revelations appear to have altered over time to adjust for changing political circumstances. Urging his readers to employ reason rather than to rely on revelation, Paine argues that the only reliable, unchanging and universal evidence of God's existence is the natural world. "The Bible of the Deist", he contends, should not be a human invention such as the Bible, but rather a divine invention—it should be "creation". Paine takes this argument even further, maintaining that the same rules of logic and standards of evidence that govern the analysis of secular texts should be applied to the Bible.

Sir Drummond has the following comments in Oedipus Judaicus that further illustrate the “spirit” of the Age of Reason of his time.

Oedipus Judaicus: Preface

It will naturally be asked by those, who may chance to see this volume, why its author has caused a book to be printed, which he yet does not choose to publish. When, however, it is considered, that I have treated chiefly of things deemed sacred, and that there is considerable novelty in some of my opinions, I trust that I shall be easily pardoned, if I confine the distribution of the copies of this work to a narrow circle.

I pretend that the ancient Jews, like other nations of antiquity, had their esoteric and their exoteric doctrines. They concealed the former under innumerable types and symbols, the meaning of which is generally unknown among their descendants. It is the object of my book to explain the hidden sense of many passages in the Hebrew Scriptures; but as Christians are, for the most part, so well satisfied with the literal sense, as never to look for any other, except when it is thought that some allusion is made to the advent of Christ, I feel myself unwilling to publish any explanations of the original text, which may not coincide with those notions concerning its meaning which are most commonly received. Besides, there may be passages in this volume, which are capable of alarming the timid, and of provoking the prejudiced. Ignorance bears ill being told, that it has much to learn; and to instruct Pride is to affront it.

The Old Testament is a book, which we have all read in our childhood, when reason proposes no doubts, and when judgment is too feeble to decide for itself. But its early associations are generally the strongest in the human mind; and what we have been taught to credit as children, we are seldom disposed to question as men. Called away from speculative inquiries by the common business of life, men in general possess neither the inclination, nor the leisure, to examine what they believe, or why they believe. A Powerful prejudice remains in the mind;—ensures conviction. Without the trouble of thinking; and repels doubt without the aid or authority of reason. The multitude, then, is not very likely to applaud an author, who calls upon it to consider what it had hitherto neglected, and to stop where it had been accustomed to pass on. It may also happen, that there is a learned and a formidable body, which, having given its general sanction to the literal interpretation of the Hebrew Scriptures, maybe offended at the presumption of an unhallowed layman, who ventures to hold, that the language of those Scriptures is often symbolical and allegorical, even in passages, which both the Church and the Synagogue consider as containing nothing else than a plain statement of facts. A writer, who had sufficient boldness to encounter such obstacles, and to make an appeal to the public, would only expose himself to the invectives of offended bigotry, and to the misrepresentations of interested malice. The press would be made to ring with declamations against him; and neither learning, nor argument, nor reason, nor moderation, on his side, would protect him from the literary assassination which awaited him. In vain would he put on the heaven-tempered panoply of Truth. The weapons, which could neither pierce his buckler, nor break his casque, might be made to pass with envenomed points through the joints of his armour. Every trivial error, which he might commit, would be magnified into a flagrant fault; and every insignificant mistake, into which he might fall, would be represented by the bigoted, or by the hireling critics of the day, as an ignorant, or as a perverse, deviation from the truth.

Under these circumstances, I feel little inclination to make my opinions too publicly known. It may be hoped, however, that reason and liberality will soon again be progressive in their march; and that men will cease to think that Religion can be really at war with Philosophy. When we hear the timid Sons of Superstition calling to each other to rally round the altar, we may well blush for human weakness. The altar, of which the basis is established by Reason, and which is supported by Truth and Nature, can never be overthrown. It is before that altar that I kneel, and that I adore the God, whom philosophy has taught me to consider as the infinite and eternal Mind, that formed, and that sustains, the fair order of Nature, and that created and preserves the universal system.

Additionally, the following quotation summarizes the political mind that was in possession of the free will of Sir William Drummonds.

Dissertation on the Fourteenth Chapter of Genesis

I acknowledge that I believe the chapter before us to be rather a typical illustration than an historical narrative. I am aware of the objections which may be urged against those, who too fondly seek for allegory in the Scriptures; but I am not convinced that we are bound either by reason, or by faith, to assert that allegorical illustrations were never veiled by the sacred penmen, under the guise of recorded facts.

It is well known, that Tsabaism, or the worship of the hosts of heaven, had seduced mankind from the religion of Nature and of God. The Deity, therefore, appears to have instructed Abram and his posterity in the knowledge of the true religion, not only that this knowledge might be transmitted from generation to generation among the chosen people, but that the people might not be without witnesses of the continued exercise of the divine Providence; when, at last, the Gentile nations should be called upon to partake of the blessings produced by the most glorious of its dispensations. But so powerful is example;—so prone are men to fall into error:—and so favourable were the Heathen superstitions to the gratification of the passions, that the Hebrews, amidst an uninterrupted succession of miracles, were continually relapsing into that idolatry, from which the divine interposition was still necessary to rescue them. Separated from the rest of mankind,—with all his natural liberties abridged,—the slave of institutions which were as rigid as they were singular;—Israel sighed for the comparative freedom, the milder laws, and the religious tolerance of the Gentiles.

The Age of Reason, which is also called the Age of Enlightenment, spans the period from 1600 AD to 1800 AD and Drummond penned Oedipus Judaicus in 1811, at the end of the so-called Age of Reason. But, there is a common characteristic of all Ages of Enlightenment. This characteristic is summarized in a quotation attributed to Sir Drummond.

Dogma of Drummond

He who will not reason is a bigot;
he who cannot is a fool;
and he who dares not is a slave.

These dogmas of Enlightenment and Reason are simply superstitions blind to any sensation outside the rationalizing desire of the one so possessed, and lacking in any motive to obtain common sense. For a Child of the Age of Reason to criticize then Law Givers of the Exodus who claimed that their purpose was to leave the land of bondage is not only void of reason, it is hypocritical. The Hebrews claimed that Egypt was bound by superstition and the Chosen People would reason with Yahweh. The implication is that all other forms of reason were irrational, and the Chosen People hold The Law in Divine Esteem. The Law is the Rational Order stripped of Irrational Disorder. This is the essence of all subsequent forms of Monotheism. In defense of Egypt, they claimed that the brother of Osiris named Seth, who was the essence of the Name Soul, created chaos by rejection of Common Sense. To Common Sense was Egypt bound. The fault exists in misidentifying Common Knowledge as Common Sense. Rational Order is founded upon Common Knowledge and is “self consistent” because it is “self identifying.” When each individual “self identifies” on any rational basis, the consequence is always chaos because of the absence of Common Sense. Thus, the Exodus created disorder because it rejected all attempts at alignment by syncretism.

The advent of Monotheism is reported to have occurred in Egypt at the end of the 18th Dynasty. At that time the Pharaoh Amenophis III died and the records suggest that his Great Wife Tiye retained the throne and placed her priests, of the monotheistic religion to the Aten, in charge of the religious journey of Egypt. The evidence also suggests that a coalition was established with the Followers of Seth to be in charge of the political journey of Egypt. Whether the Aten religion was native born in Egypt is questionable, and extremely unlikely, for throughout its history Egypt was a society of syncretism regarding religious matters. That means that the religious establishments of Egypt always found a way to “Become One.” However, in a monotheistic dogma there can be no syncretism. Monotheism is identified by intolerance and exclusivity regarding the various personalities of the All. Syncretism is based upon the existence of One, and therefore, Egypt was open Monotheism allowing freedom of rational identity provided the form of identity could be bound by syncretism. It was this bondage that led to the Exodus.

As for the Sethians participating in a monotheistic religion of the Aten, we need only to understand that Seth was the ancient neter of Rational Being. Seth was the usurper of the Kingdom of Osiris, and was often held in highest esteem, but kept in balance with the other aspects of religious life in Egypt. When the Aten cult acquired the throne of Egypt, they were pacifists who needed warriors to protect the throne. This need for protection was not from foreign regimes, but from the rest of the Egyptians whose syncretism would absorb the Aten enlightenment into a greater Gnosticism. As a result, the rational cults of Seth destroyed the irrational cults of Egypt to force Social Justice in the Aten Kingdom. This “conjecture” can be illustrated by a thorough review of the Amarna period at the end of the 18th Dynasty and the establishment of the 19th Dynasty.

At the time of the establishment of the 19th Dynasty, there had been attempts to carry out the traditional syncretism of Egypt and to reestablish the “common wealth.” The famous “family” image on the back of the Throne Chair of Tut shows his birth name and he throne name in the cartouches, Tutankhamun and Nebkheperure, but above the two royals is the image of the Aten. The word Aten means Light. The two statues of King Tut found in his tomb showed him with a walking staff and a pyramid kilt. The apex of the kilt was at his navel. This was a common image used for 18th Dynasty Pharaohs. It means, “I am the Light of the World.” This light is not the rational light, but the genetic light (intuition) that reveals the Journey of the Ka (genes, substance, body). The serpent crown of the king has six uraei representing the Eye of Ra and six ornaments with solar disks. They represent Egyptian religious markers for the twelve house of the zodiac. One ornament does not have a solar disk. This means that the 12th Hour has not been filled with light.

This is critical to understanding the reoccurring Ages of Reason and the Exodus. Ankhesenpaaten, whose name was changed to Ankhesenamun, is applying the “finishing touches” to the king. Those “finishing touches” are aided by the beneficent hands of the Aten. This God of Enlightenment was the opposite of the Unknowable One, Amun. From the perspective of the Atenists, Amun was a Lord of Darkness and that was the motive for the destruction of all the traditional temples of Egypt. This is precisely the attitude of Drummond and all rationalists who confuse Reason with Rationalization. The Amarna heresy represented an “Age of Enlightenment” and a severe loss of the history of Egypt. If you listen with the “long ears” of the Moai of Rapa Nui you will realize that the regime of the Atenists was a “progressive socialist” regime. The whole society of Egypt would be provided for by the Benevolent Aten through the intermediaries of the Royal Family. Throughout history human cultures have found that socialist beneficence always fails because it is a rationalization without the physical effort required to create and maintain wealth. These “Progressives” are always moving into a Promised Land, which is the basic philosophy of promissory materialism. Without a blood offering, the “progressive socialist” enlightenment is repressive of sense based communications, i.e., common sense of the Unknowable One.

The Amarna capital was established in Akhetaten, which was called the Horizon of the Aten. This horizon was a “scientific” location with time and space coordinates. It was the sacred northern location in the Elysian Fields at the axis of the galactic plane, and it was “perfectly rational and sensible reasoning” to assume that cosmic orientation would keep Egypt strong. As such, the Milky Way would lie precisely around the location of the Horizon of Akhetaten when the “Sun Began To Rise.” This is the meaning of the diadem of King Tut. The vulture and the serpent represent the Two Lands of Upper and Lower Egypt, and the central band is the local horizon of the king and the Prophetic Alignment that would come at the end of the 12th Hour. That hour was the Hour of Pisces, for the vernal equinox passes through the lowest point on the ecliptic relative to the plane of the Milky Way in late Pisces. My estimation based upon planetarium programs was October 23, 1998. After that date the Vernal Sun, which is the Eye of Ra, would begin to rise back up to the Elysian Fields in the Land of the Rising Sun.

With that degree of rationalized orientation, it becomes clear why some Peoples on Earth tried to escape from the Land of Bondage, which was “progressive socialist” Egypt. But, we must never forget that the Horizon of the Aten was a place on Earth and the adage “as above, so below” was the primary Rule of Law for all the people who practiced Tsabaism, or the worship of the hosts of heaven.

The Heavenly Hosts guided all human cultures in the West until the Roman Era. At that time, the Heavenly Hosts were denied and the Light of the World that is the vernal equinox was nailed to the cross of the seasons, the Julian Calendar. Prior to the establishment of the Julian Calendar the sacred calendar of Egypt was the Sothic Calendar based upon the heliacal rising of the star Sothis (Sirius, the Dog Star), the celestial domain of Isis. Sirius is the brightest star in the sky. Its proper motion is such that it has a sidereal period of 365.2500 days, a leap year. But, when Julius Caesar united the civil calendar and the celestial calendar, he nailed the stars to the civilization of a Roman emperor. From that day forward it was not necessary to read the Heavenly Hosts to determine the course of seasons in nature. Western Civilization began a process of looking away from the Heavenly Hosts for orientation on Earth and in the Heavens. The consequence was that the most sacred bond of human culture was broken. Rome was claimed as the center of the universe and man had usurped the great works of the Creator of the Universe. On that occasion, the Truth was crucified. The rationalization became the realization of the solstitial bondage of the Light of the World to the 1st of Aries as the Anointed One and the sacrificial lamb. The Aten cult had the same objective regarding the Signs of the Times, and the Hebrews waited for the desolation of Jerusalem with the exact same celestial coordinate, the reckoning of which cannot be done without the Heavenly Hosts. It was not a matter of numbers. It was a matter of orientation to the Heavenly Hosts. The Julian Calendar removed the sacred calendar and made the Heavenly Hosts irrelevant to the pragmatic empire of Rome that eventually became bound by chaotic laws.

How devastating was the loss of celestial orientation to Western Civilization? According to the advocates of enlightenment and reason, the binding of the vernal equinox to the 1st of Aries was the most progressive moment of humankind. Man was forever free of the bondage to the Unknowable One who ruled the stars. Man gained control of the stars.

When we look at the Earth from the position of the Heavenly Hosts, the tyranny and err of Rome is quite evident. The axis of the galaxy at the time the Vernal Sun begins to rise passes through the latitude of the Omphalos Borealis and the Omphalos Australis. Along these circles around the earth it can be said, “As above, so below, I am at the center of the Heavens.” Why would a person want to say such words? Because they believed they understood the Plan of Creation and they believed it was good. The only thing that has changed, other than the Middle Earth Sea, is the place on Earth where the north-south Rose Line rests. When Egypt taught the Wisdom of Creation, the Zulu location went through the Great Pyramid at Giza. Now, because England ruled the Seven Seas upon the invention of a chronometer, the Zulu location passes through the observatory at Greenwich, England. When we acknowledge the ancient temple complexes around the world and the remains of ancient maps we find that the Giza complex was the Rose Line of Creation. That would go a long way to explaining the purpose of the Giza Complex and the wisdom of Egypt that has the history of guiding civilization longer than any other culture on Earth; by thousands of years, for it was not until the Roman Empire annexed Mother Egypt in 35 BC that the Rose Line of Giza moved away from the Pyramid of Khufu, a king whose name can easily be associated with Chronos and Time.

CONCLUSION:

The essence of the complaint of reason is that of a rationalizing man, Adam, whose game of names slows him to the memory of what has been made rational. During every Age of Reason the Lord of Names, identified as Seth in Egypt, eliminates the past experience by placing all physical knowledge in a “perfect fitting box” of rational names, the death of Osiris. The result is that names become all powerful and experiences of the body become repressed as the tyrannical mind confounds the message of the senses. Thus, every Age of Reason becomes a Land of Bondage unto its own tyrannical identity in the goal of social justice. This justice is a mockery of a trial, as is that of Jesus, because experience is not present in the judgment hall.

The following images of ancient art and the star charts for the Easter Island solar eclipse of July 11, 2010 demonstrate logic born of the senses. Since all humans have access to the dot-to-dot sensations, the logic is that of Common Sense. Had Drummond and Paine connected the dots external to their own rationalizations they would have witnessed the Aquarian Conspiracy that has guided human cultures throughout recorded history. There are monuments all around the world dedicated to the entrance into the Land of the Rising Sun. When we follow the movement of the seasons we become aware that the four corners of the world move in the precessional direction opposed to the wandering stars, or planets. Paine was all words. Drummond identified the constellations of the zodiac and the planets, but failed to identify the logic read by Ancient Man because Drummond failed to connect-the-dots. Without the asterisms of the constellations Drummond was forced to regurgitate the rationalizations of the Ancients without access to the sense based origins. This is the meaning of the death of Osiris by the Lord of Names placing the Body of Experience into a Perfect Fitting Box and sending it down a river of Egypt. The death of Osiris, as revealed in the Son of Man called Orion, demonstrates the death and resurrection process under the Milky Way in the Black Land, a.k.a., Egypt. The goal was to journey up the Mountain of the Lord after entering the Land of the Rising Sun. This Sun is the Anointed One of the northern vernal equinox. The records are more than obvious that the Sign of the Times in the Mansion of the Sun is the northern vernal equinox.

The sacred scriptures of Man became the Holy Word and Man worshiped the Name of the Lord, while repressing inexperience of the Body of the Lord and dreaming of the return of the Anointed One. In this way, the Virgin Sacrifice failed to lead to Virgin Experience. All learning comes through virgin experience. If the rational experience dominates the body experience then what was known becomes what is known as the ouroboros of rationalization dominates sense based reason. This is the meaning of the Great Red Dragon and the Harlot of Babylon in St. John's Revelation. The Great Red Dragon is the ancient constellation of Scorpio and Libra, with Libra being the Claws. The images of Scorpio throughout the ages have been that of the body's desire, most often identified as sexual desire. However, the Harlot of Babylon fornicates under the disguise of rational desire. She is the love of wisdom when wisdom is pure rational knowledge.

The star charts for the solar eclipse at Easter Island illustrate the scrambled logic of the southern stars when the constellations are those of the northern cultures. Nevertheless, such constellations as Aquarius, Leo, Ophiuchus, Virgo, Bootes, and especially Gemini, Auriga and Perseus, do not function in the rational identity of the heavens if north is down. We cannot tell when Man first identified north as up, but the legacy is that Man was told by the heavens to make that decision.

Isaiah 2:1-5

This is what Isaiah, son of Amoz, saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem. In days to come, the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established as the highest mountain and raised above the hills. All nations shall stream toward it; many peoples shall come and say: "Come, let us climb the LORD's mountain, to the house of the God of Jacob, that he may instruct us in his ways, and we may walk in his paths." For from Zion shall go forth instruction, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. He shall judge between the nations, and impose terms on many peoples. They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; one nation shall not raise the sword against another, nor shall they train for war again. O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the Lord!

Easter Island is an Omphalos of the world when the Anointed One, the vernal equinox, begins to rise from the Temple of Solomon to the Heavenly Field. Thus, the solar eclipse of July 11, 2010 is a very precise message regarding the resurrection of the Anointed One. Even the European name, derived from the day of the first European encounter with Rapa Nui, tells us that it was preordained by the Creator to remind “All Nations” to ascend the Mountain of the Lord. The death of the Age of Reason, which is the Age of the Son of Man, must come before the cognition of the Anointed Sun of God reveals the coming of the Son of God.

Now revisit the words of Thomas Paine and Sir Drummond.

Paine begins The Age of Reason by attacking revelation. Revelation, he maintains, can only be verified by the individual receivers of the message and is therefore weak evidence for God's existence— Paine rejects prophecies and miracles, writing: "it is revelation to the first person only, and hearsay to every other, and consequently they are not obliged to believe it".—"The Bible of the Deist", he contends, should not be a human invention such as the Bible, but rather a divine invention—it should be "creation".

Drummond claims in his preface: The Old Testament is a book, which we have all read in our childhood, when reason proposes no doubts, and when judgment is too feeble to decide for itself. But its early associations are generally the strongest in the human mind; and what we have been taught to credit as children, we are seldom disposed to question as men. Called away from speculative inquiries by the common business of life, men in general possess neither the inclination, nor the leisure, to examine what they believe, or why they believe.

The death of every Age of Reason is answered by the transfiguration scene in Matthew 17:9 (KJV). And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead. Having taken the apostles to the top of the Mountain of the Lord, the transfiguration reveals the return of historical figures and end with the proscription that the transfiguration is the means by which the Son of Man should be revealed within every rationalized body of arrogance.

St. Paul says it more clearly without celestial correlations and transfigurations in 1 Corinthians 13:11 (KJV). When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things. Here then is the death of every Age of Reason. When we fail to witness the Truth before the face, we are like children for whom “reason proposes no doubts” and virgin experiences fail to come to a Son of Man, i.e., a rational being beyond learning. After the end of each Age of Reason comes the return of the Son of God as reason becomes a witness to Truth that existed before Time.

Had Drummond or Paine taken the time to think sensibly before rationalizing insensibly they would have realized why the Son of Gemini, who is Benjamin, raves like a wolf. A constellation whose brightest stars are the heads of two men of male and female form carries the fundamental and cosmic message, THINK! In the heavens of the Galileans the Anointed One passes from the Manger of Common Sense through the Help Meet She to the Rationalizing He. On July 11, 2010 the Sun and the Moon said, “Think with Wisdom in the Bosom of Darkness,” for Common Sense Wisdom was a visible Revelation at the moment of the eclipse at the Isla de Pascua and Rapa Nui.

Looking up the shaft drilled to the captives in the San Jose Mine as Florencio Avalos, who emerged from the missile-like chamber called the Phoenix. Note the thin red line that is the meridian above the San Jose Mine. The man at the bottom of the well is Joseph of Arimathea, Geb, and the Divine Man of Chile. The meridian passes between the vernal equinox and Uranus, the mythical First Father, who the Egyptians and Greeks and Americanos say was buried under the World Tree.

Note the bird behind the back of St. Joseph; its name is the same as the "missile-like chamber" that Florencio Avalos rode back to the surface of the San Jose Mine. The meridian is before the beak of the Phoenix and behind the Stork, implying that the Phoenix Chamber was a womb for rebirth. Down, which is up in Chile, at the bottom of the chart is Golgotha and the Raft of Chiron that rescues those souls caught between Life and Death. Thus, the meridian from south to north runs through the ancient path of transcendence where the Raft of Chiron carried the Souls of the Dead across the River Styx.

Avalos was followed an hour later by the most ebullient of the group, Sepulveda, whose shouts were heard even before the capsule peeked above the surface. He hugged his wife and handed out souvenir rocks from the mine to laughing rescuers. At the time of the rescue of Mario Sepulveda Espina the location of the San Jose Mine was the Omphalos of the Heavens. Copiapo, Chile and Easter Island, Chile are both on the latitude of the omphalos australis. The cheering and exuberance could hardly have been more appropriate for Super Mario, the man who kept the miners filled with faith and hope of their rescue after more than 60 days.

Death toll rises to 31 in China coal mine gas leak; 6 still trapped

Rescuers prepare to descend underground at the coal mine where a gas leak occurred, in Yuzhou City, central China's Henna Province, Oct. 16, 2010. The death toll from the coal mine gas leak in Henan rose to 31, and 6 others were still trapped underground as of the afternoon of Oct. 18. (Xinhua/Zhuxiang). The gas outburst happened at 6:03 a.m. Saturday when 276 miners were working underground in the mine in Yuzhou City. A total of 239 workers escaped but 21 were found dead and 16 were trapped.

Rescuers fear worst for 11 trapped Chinese miners

By KEN TEH, The Associated Press, Sunday, October 17, 2010; 1:59 AM

<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/content/article/2010/10/16/AR2010101600637.html>

China celebrated its own stunning mine rescue earlier this year, when 115 miners were pulled from a flooded mine in the northern province of Shanxi after more than a week underground. The miners survived by eating sawdust, tree bark, paper and even coal. Some strapped themselves to the walls of the shafts with their belts to avoid drowning while they slept.

But it was a rare bright spot. About 2,600 people were killed in Chinese mining accidents last year, even as the country's leaders have been making a high-profile push to improve mine safety.

EYE OF SILOAM COMMENT:

Between the first miner rescue at the San Jose Mine and the gas leak event at the Yuzhou City Mine, two days eighteen hours and fifty-two minutes passed. At the instant of the Yuzhou City Mine gas leak event there was a "Perfected" alignment of Fist Father and the Son of the Sun (Uranus and Jupiter) with the current vernal equinox.

So what?

The deaths at Yuzhou City will be 31-37 human souls based upon current data. But, if the gas leak event had been an explosion, the number of deaths would have been closer to 270. Yet, even if the event had been fully catastrophic, the number of deaths would be approximately 10% of the annual deaths that occur in mines in China. In short, the most significant fact of the Yuzhou City Mine event is the time between the first rescue at the San Jose Mine and the gas leak at the Yuzhou City Mine.

Florencio Avalos, First Chilean Miner Rescued

Avalos reached the surface at 12:11 AM Wednesday morning, local time

<http://www.huliq.com/3257/florencio-avalos-first-chilean-miner-rescued>

Consider also, the Masonic correspondence for the rescue event at the San Jose Mine. The ascension of the first miner rescued began on October 12, 2010 when Florencio Avalos stepped on the Phoenix capsule and it left the mine safe room at 11:55 pm on 10/12/10. The "first of the dead" to return occurred when Florencio Avalos hugged his son after the Phoenix capsule door opened at 12:11 on October 13, 2010. Why is that a Masonic correspondence? Consider the sum of the date numbers for 10/12/10 and 10/13/10. The two trinities add to 32 and 33. Thus, the rescue occurred as the day of the 33rd Degree transited to the day of the 33rd Degree. This was the transition from mortal to divine in the Masonic Ritual. The rescue occurred because the work of the drilling crew of Center Rock, Inc. (<http://www.centerrock.com/>), an American firm that made the special drilling equipment required to pass through over 2000 feet of hard and abrasive rock. The crew required the best experience in order to guide the drill through the top of the Safe Room in the San Jose Mine. Center Rock is from Western Pennsylvania, a state where American independence was guided by the Masonic Spirit over two hundred and thirty four years earlier. That Masonic Spirit was Freedom, and the 33 men of the San Jose Mine were freed on the transition for the date to the 33rd Degree.

What, therefore, is the correlation to the San Jose Mine and the Yuzhou City Mine?

It is that the perfect alignment of Jupiter with Uranus and the Vernal Equinox represents the return of the Father of Time and the Son of Time, Time being Saturn, at the marker of the Land of the Rising Sun in Current Time. This event, the entry into the Land of the Rising Sun, represents the most sought after event in human history. The Great Pyramids of Egypt, and the traditions of the People of the Pacific Islands, Eastern Asia, and the two American Continents, the Hebrews, the Christians, the Muslims and Mormons, all focus toward that day when the Heroic Sun begins to restore the Ancestors to the Land of the Living.

Pope Canonizes first Australian Saint, Mary MacKillop

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-asia-pacific-11559883>

The BBC's Duncan Kennedy says hundreds of Australians have travelled to Rome to witness the Pope canonize Mary MacKillop. Pope Benedict XVI has officially recognized Australia's first saint, Mary MacKillop, a Melbourne-born nun who worked with needy children.

She was canonized with five others, including Brother Andre, a Canadian monk credited with miraculous healings.

MacKillop, who died in 1909, clashed with senior clergy and was briefly excommunicated, in part for exposing a sex-abusing priest.

Thousands of Australians are in Rome to witness the ceremony.

Pope Benedict XVI, canonized the six saints in St Peter's Square in front of some 50,000 people.

He declared that "throughout the Church they be honored devoutly among all the saints".

Why is this relevant to the two mine disasters? Consider what happened in Rome on October 17, 2010 at the morning mass before 50,000 people.

Mary MacKillop (15 January 1842 – 8 August 1909), also known as Saint Mary of the Cross,

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mary_MacKillop#Canonisation

Mary MacKillop was an Australian Roman Catholic nun who, together with Father Julian Tenison Woods, founded the Sisters of St Joseph of the Sacred Heart and a number of schools and welfare institutions throughout Australasia with an emphasis on education for the poor, particularly in country areas. Since her death she has attracted much veneration in Australia and internationally. MacKillop is the only Australian to have been canonized.

Two mine disasters and one canonization all during the alignment of the Father and the Son of Time. Whether many people come to understand the spirit of St. Mary of the Cross, or not, she was canonized when the heavens declared it is "about time."

SAN JOSE MINE, Chile (AP) — The miners who spent 69 agonizing days deep under the Chilean earth were hoisted one by one to freedom Wednesday, their rescue moving with remarkable speed while their countrymen erupted in cheers and the world watched transfixed.

Beginning at midnight and sometimes as quickly as once every 40 minutes, the men climbed into a slender cage nearly a half-mile underground and made a smooth ascent into fresh air. By early afternoon, more than half the men — 17 of 33 — had been rescued.

In a meticulously planned operation, they were monitored by video on the way up for any sign of panic. They had oxygen masks, dark glasses to protect their eyes from unfamiliar daylight and sweaters for the jarring climate change, subterranean swelter to the chillier air above.

They emerged looking healthier than many had expected and even clean-shaven, and at least one, Mario Sepulveda, the second to taste freedom, bounded out and thrust a fist upward like a prizefighter.

"I think I had extraordinary luck. I was with God and with the devil. And I reached out for God," he said as he awaited the air force helicopter ride to a nearby hospital where all the miners were to spend 48 hours under medical observation.

The operation moved past the halfway point with the rescue of the 17th miner, a 56-year-old electrician named Omar Reygadas who helped organize life underground. His fourth great-grandchild was born a month after the men were sealed into the mine's lower reaches by an Aug. 5 collapse of 700,000 tons of rock.

As it traveled down and up, down and up, the rescue capsule was not rotating as much inside the 2,041-foot escape shaft as officials expected, allowing for faster trips and officials said the operation could be complete by sunrise Thursday, if not sooner.

The anxiety that had accompanied the careful final days of preparation broke at 12:11 a.m., with the first rescue — Florencio Avalos, who emerged from the missile-like chamber and smiled broadly after his half-mile journey. He hugged his sobbing 7-year-old son and wife and then President Sebastian Pinera, who has been deeply involved in an effort that had become a matter of national pride.

Avalos was followed an hour later by the most ebullient of the group, Sepulveda, whose shouts were heard even before the capsule peeked above the surface. He hugged his wife and handed out souvenir rocks from the mine to laughing rescuers.

No one in recorded history has survived as long trapped underground as the 33 men. For the first 17 days, no one even knew whether they were alive. In the weeks that followed, the world was captivated by their endurance and unity.

Health Minister Jaime Manalich told a news conference after eight miners were rescued that all of them were in good health, and none has required any special medication, not even the diabetic among them.

Chile exploded in joy and relief at the first, breakthrough rescue just after midnight in the coastal Atacama desert.

In the capital, Santiago, a cacophony of car horns sounded. In the nearby regional capital of Copiapo, from which 24 of the miners hail, the mayor canceled school so parents and children could "watch the rescue in the warmth of the home."

News channels from North America to Europe and the Middle East carried live coverage. Pope Benedict XVI said in Spanish that he "continues with hope to entrust to God's goodness" the fate of the men. Iran's state English-language Press TV followed events live until President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad touched down in Lebanon on his first state visit there.

The images beamed worldwide were extraordinary: Grainy footage from beneath the earth showed each miner climbing into the 13-foot-tall capsule, then disappearing upward through an opening. Then a camera showed the pod steadily rising through the dark, smooth-walled tunnel.

Three-year-old girl rescued from Argentina well

18 November 2010 Last updated at 00:41 ET

A three-year-old girl in Argentina has been safely rescued after falling down a 30m (100ft) well.

Rescue workers spent more than six hours trying to pull Vanessa Mamani from the shaft in a field in Florencio Varela, Buenos Aires province.

She was taken to hospital where doctors said she was shocked but otherwise unharmed by the ordeal.

Argentina's President Cristina Kirchner has described the rescue as "a miracle".

"She got out and screamed as if she had just been born," she told reporters after visiting the girl in hospital.

The rescue operation was broadcast live on Argentine television, as fibre optic cameras showed the small girl trapped in a narrow space at the bottom of the mine shaft, after falling 23 metres.

She appeared unhurt but there were concerns that she might be suffering from less obvious injuries.

The space was too small for anyone to go down and fetch her, so a harness had to be lowered down for her to put on herself.

Chief firefighter Marcelo Tucci said it was unclear until the last moment whether Vanessa would be able to follow the instructions and put on the harness, the Associated Press reports.

But she managed to attach herself and her rescuers erupted in cheers as she reached the surface at around midnight local time (0300 GMT).

Vanessa was then taken to hospital in Florencio Varela. Hospital director Arnaldo Medina said she was suffering "from a state of shock" but was "doing fine".

Buenos Aires - Argentines across the nation cheered when rescuers pulled a 3-year-old girl from a deep water well late on Tuesday after a lengthy ordeal mostly broadcast live on television.

"It was a miracle," President Cristina Kirchner said of the rescue on Wednesday after visiting young Vanessa Mamani, who was recovering in hospital at Florencio Varela, 25km south of Buenos Aires.

"She got out and screamed as if she had just been born," Kirchner told reporters.

Mamani was under medical observation but only suffers "from a state of shock and at present is doing fine", hospital director Arnaldo Medina told reporters.

The girl fell down a 30m-deep well used by farmers that was hidden by bushes in a field in Pilaes, near Florencio Varela.

The well had 35cm-wide diameter, too narrow for an adult to be lowered to pull her out.

The girl's plight soon drew more than 200 rescue workers, including police and fire fighters.

Television networks followed in rescue in real time via a small camera linked to a fibre optic cable that attached to a special harness rescuers lowered into the well.

The head of the area firefighters, Marcelo Tucci, said it was unclear until the last moment if the young girl was mature enough to follow instructions to put on the harness.

The 7.5 hour ordeal reached its climax when viewers saw Vanessa grab the harness and place it around her chest.

"Come on, come on... We made it! We made it!" shouted the chief rescue operator when Mamani's face finally peered out of the wellhead.

Note that the rescue began when Mercury arrived on the line between Ares (Mars) and Antares. Antares means not Mars, or irrational. Thus, Wisdom comes between the rational and irrational existence. Too much of either one, will result in chaos of the mind or chaos of the flesh. Wisdom achieves the balance and salvation of both, as is the myth of Persephone who is rescued by Hermes (Wisdom).

Nadir at Florencio Varela when Vanessa Mamani's rescue was complete. In the topsy-turvy world in the Land Down Under, the Great Shepherd at the top of the world is viewed beyond the bottom of the well.

Achilles was a Greek hero of the Trojan War, the central character and the greatest warrior of Homer's Iliad. He is a dual personality in the heavens being aligned head to head with Hercules, the warrior of great strength. He is also the great father in heaven called Asclepius (Ophiuchus) the serpent holder. The conjunction of Hercules at the head and Serpens at the bosom of the constellation means that the healer is proficient in the rational and irrational healing. Note the peculiar cutout of the constellation boundary for Ophiuchus that tells us that Achilles is Ophiuchus. Alexander the Great began the great experiment that to eliminate the know world from tyrannical empires and he claimed that he was guided by Achilles and Hercules.

When Achilles was a baby his mother, Thetis, dipped him in the sacred waters while holding his left heel out of the sacred waters. It is clear from the myth and from the stars of Ophiuchus-Achilles-Asclepius that the myth makers witness the Milky Way as Sacred Waters. On November 17, 2010 as the midnight hour arrived, a 3 year old child was plucked from the Bootes, Atlas at the top of the world. She was brought up to the surface on the down axis toward the Sacred Fire of Fornax, and the tomb of countless heroes.

Being the Father Image (Achilles, Asclepius, Hercules), the message is that arrogance is the Achilles Heel of any Cocky Man. It is for that Reason that the Humble Shepherd is rewarded with the Rose Line of the planisphere as the most perfectly oriented of the icons. The arrogant Shepherd is the one that finds satisfaction (Swan) in the binding of others to laws of personal intent, tyranny.

The importance of this planisphere and the rescue of Vanessa Mamani from a well in Florencio Varela is extremely profound. First, it must be realized that the planisphere was created and put in the temple before the life of Cleopatra, the last Pharaoh of Alexander's Dynasty. The planisphere specifically claims that arrogance will lead to domination and tyranny, but the peoples of the Hellenistic World failed to heed its warning. The purpose of the Hellenistic Temple was to prevent the return of Persian tyranny and any other form of tyranny by raising the ideals of Motherhood to the cosmic realm. The monument predicts tyranny will begin during the Age of Pisces, and of many accurate celestial prognostications, this one cannot be denied. The Roman Empire was established at the murder of Cleopatra and her son, Caesarean, c. 35 BC, as a result of the collusion of the Western Roman Empire with Herod the Great in the Eastern Roman Empire.

Subsequently, in the 4th Century AD, the Mithrasian Soldiers and bureaucrats realized that they had participated in the Achilles Heel legend. They rewrote history to reflect what had been bound by the Roman Empire and the crucifixion of the King of the Jews to the 1st of Aries. The tyranny did not only occur in the minds and laws of the citizens of Rome, it also bound the minds of the Persian oriented astrologers. This was in direct violation of the wisdom on the planisphere regarding cocky men and the precession of the equinoxes identified by the Followers of Horus. The Cocky Man strides with the Paternal flail and staff in his hands, the Phoenix at his heel, with his tail between his legs, and a virgin's crown on his head.

The final correction of the cultural tyranny of Rome was made when wise men sought to counsel with the pontiffs of the empire and correct the false count of leap years. In the encounter with Herod, as the legend tells, the consequence of the New World Order was the Death of the Innocents. That was when the calendar was corrected for inappropriate counting of leap years caused by the Roman numerical system without the number zero. This colossal blunder would be equivalent to establishing a decade of nine years. Thus, when the calendar was created the final years of the past were identified negatively from the census at the birth of the Christ Child back in history beginning, not with zero, but with minus one. Likewise, the forward count of the years began with plus one. The consequence was that the years 0 BC and 0 AD never existed. It was in this way that the legend of Herod's slaughter of the innocents occurred. All of the babes between December 31, 1 BC and January 1, 1 AD were slaughtered due to the ignorance of the Roman numerical system regarding zero. The babes would be January 0 BC through December 0 BC and January 0 AD through December 0 AD. All twenty four months failed to be accounted for in the census when the Christ Child came down to Earth. The Christ Child that rides the Eagle came Chile on 10/13/10 at the moment of the ascension of Florencio Avalos. Whether the Creator intends to speak in this manner cannot be addressed because this speech requires the full knowledge of every star on the wall of the Mansion of the Sun. Yet, in the hand of Virgo is the Cosmic Flower at the top of the galaxy as a florencio, meaning blossom or charming. Florencio Avalos and Florencio Varela seem to be shouting out the name of the Creator by their presence, for they say, "I Am" above to irrational rescue events.

The celestial messages at both rescue locations in South America reveal the incredible value of Irrational Wisdom when it is used to cause Rational Wisdom. This is the Wand of Seshat in the process of revealing the Wisdom of the Ages to all who maintain humility in the knowledge they profess.

On the line between the vernal equinoxes of 1 AD through 2010 AD we are shown the span of time from the Slaughter of the Two Year Olds until the Rescue of a Three Year Old. At the former equinox is the line of Pisces that bears the name, I Doubt. This line is also named Judas Iscariot and Thomas Didymos. At the latter equinox is the line of Pisces that bears the name, I Believe. This line is also known as the Beloved Son, St. John, Gabriel, Mary Magdalene, and Seshat. The quill of St. John was guided by Gabriel-Seshat and the legacy of the Hellenes was recorded by him. The Angel Gabriel also guided the pen of Muhammad in the legacy of the Persians. Both sacred scriptures relied upon the Books of the Sons of Seth, the child of Eve and Nut, to create the rational Eye Witness to the Signs of the Times. Hidden in the Eye Witness of Sacred Science is the Eye of Ra. It is where the two tears of Hathor are bound by the Gordian Knot. This Eye has no tears for it is not made of star connections. This is the Invisible Eye for which presence is its Intent as it Creates Itself.

Luke 11:29-32 (King James Version)

And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here. The men of Nineve shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

John 21:14-25 (King James Version)

This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead. So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs. He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me. Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee? Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true. And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

First Father is Born from the mouth of First Mother

It is a universal and eternal message; Rational Oversight always comes from Irrational Understanding. The tempests of our physical beginnings result in a personal journey after which the scroll of our legacy is the net of Neith, who is Love and Understanding. The Heavenly Father, Achilles, as Asclepius, reminds us that there is more wisdom in the DNA than in any skull full of synapses triggered by celestial wonders.

Jesus reminds us that the Men from Nineveh come to end the evil generation of the Last House. And, when the vernal equinox sat upon the Wand of Seshat, that is the Voice of Gabriel, these men wrote a book to bring about the Times of our lives. On September 11, 2001 there was no longer room for doubt regarding the destiny of the Men from Nineveh, Ur, Arabia, and places there about. They came up into Europe and now Europe is in the bag of Perseus, a.k.a., Judas Iscariot, single minded self denial. They have been terrorizing the world for decades to avoid their own ruin, yet the world denies they are here and that we have degenerated under the deception of the Great Red Dragon and the vulnerability of the heel of Achilles (arrogance). Yet, in the quill of St. John we are given hope, for as the Beloved Son, he prepared the way for the Truth to come again. In the generation of Jonas and the Crucified One we are witness to The Key of Heaven and the coming of First Father. The passageway of the vernal equinox through the Sea of Reeds says, "I Am, I Doubt, I Believe, I know." This is the Way of Jesus, for we must all pass through the Sheep Door of the I Am. Once the Passover is killed, we must pass by the Roman lance with the sop of vinegar. Then, as the Age comes to its end there will be great tribulation as nation rises against nation.

The Egyptians strived to prove that the Experience of First Father never dies as Osiris rises in the sentimental Eye of Hathor. Likewise the wailing wall of the Jews marks the end of the Age of Aries stretched by Joshua for about a whole day. Bound to that wall is the name of the beast upon whose back Muhammad rode to seventh heaven. Yet, of these, only the Egyptians made a monument to the Cup Bearer of the Sacred Word. It was they who promised that the Son of God would come in the Land of the Rising Sun. He is the one with the pail of water pouring it out on a fisherman at the bottom of the cosmic abyss. He is the Messiah of whom legends are told. St. John is still he Beloved Son.

All of these legends would be simple myths were it not for a three year old girl who, upon ascending to the surface of the earth, cried as if she had just been born. That cry was not rational, and yet if she was not rational, then how did she put on the harness with which she was saved? How many times does a three year old girl get to practice such life saving action? The answers to these questions are the grist of legends, for they speak of a Truth that the Eye and the Ears cannot understand without the words, "I Believe I Know" overpowering the words "I Doubt I am" in the betrayal of Judas.

And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

Thank you Vanessa for reminding us to cry like we were Born Again.

A Messiah for 33 Men

Blast fears delay search for 29 New Zealand miners

WELLINGTON, New Zealand – Fears that dangerous mine gas could trigger a second explosion stalled rescue crew search efforts on Saturday at the New Zealand coal mine where 29 workers are missing nearly a day after a powerful gas blast struck deep underground.

Two dazed and slightly injured miners stumbled to the surface hours after the blast shot up the 354-foot- (108-meter-) long ventilation shaft at the Pike River mine on Friday. Video from the scene showed blackened trees and light smoke billowing from the top of the rugged mountain where the mine is located, near Atarau on New Zealand's South Island.

Pike River Mine Ltd's chief executive Peter Whittall said it was not known if the men were alive because nothing had been heard from the 16 employees and 13 contract miners since Friday's explosion at the mine. Repeated attempts to contact the 29 men had failed.

"We can't risk sending men into the mine until we know exactly what (the quality of the gas) is," he said.

A coal-gas explosion was the most likely cause of Friday's major blast, Whittall said.

"There could be another explosion," said mine safety expert David Feickert, who noted that officials don't yet know what caused the original ignition, and rescuers will enter the mine only when it is safe.

Whittall said officials would have enough analysis by later Saturday to decide whether a rescue team can go in, adding that the missing miners would have to deal with such hazards as air pollution, high levels of methane and carbon dioxide, and low levels of oxygen.

Each miner carried 30 minutes of oxygen, enough to reach oxygen stores in the mine that would allow them to survive for "several days," said Pike River chairman John Dow.

"This is a search and rescue operation, and we are going to bring these guys home," police superintendent Gary Knowles told reporters.

A company official had earlier said that five men had come out of the mine, based on information provided by the two men who had surfaced. By Saturday morning, however, officials had seen no sign of the other three men.

Unlike the accident in Chile, where 33 men were rescued from a gold and copper mine last month after being trapped a half-mile (one kilometer) underground for 69 days, Pike River officials have to worry about the presence of methane, Feickert said.

He added, however, that the Pike River mine has two exits, while the mine in Chile had only one access shaft that was blocked.

It could be days before it is safe enough for special teams to enter the mine, said Tony Kokshoorn, mayor of nearby Greymouth.

Electricity went out shortly before Friday's explosion and that failure may have caused ventilation problems and contributed to a buildup of gas. The power outage continued to frustrate efforts Saturday to pump in fresh air and make it safe for rescuers.

Whittall said rescue crews were trying to get accurate gas samples as they couldn't risk sending men in till they had definitive tests.

Damage to the upper part of mine shaft in the explosion meant "we can't get accurate samples," he said. Fresh air was being pumped into the mine, but officials still did not know where the men were.

Energy Minister Gerry Brownlee said gas experts from Australia were flying in to help analyze the gas in the mine. Chile and Australia had both offered assistance, with Australian "Foreign Minister (Kevin) Rudd making it clear that the Australian government would do whatever to help here."

Australian and British nationals were among the missing men, he said.

Kokshoorn was hopeful the missing workers could survive like the Chilean miners, whose rescue — played out on live television — captivated the world.

"We are holding on to hope," Kokshoorn said. "Look at Chile, all those miners were trapped and they all came out alive."

Kokshoorn said his community was "grief-stricken" about the 29 miners missing in the mine and had "ground to a halt" as they wait for news about the men.

"The families out there ... are all rallying together at the moment, we're doing everything we can for them but it's a serious situation down there," he told TV3's "The Nation" program.

"We hope they've (the missing miners) got to ventilated shafts sucking in oxygen. We're praying for them," he said.

Mine rescue teams were "working their guts out" trying to get into the mine and were well trained for emergency situations.

"Incredible" offers of support were flooding in from around the world, including "search and rescue teams from Australia ... airlines around the world ... saying (they'll) bring anyone, anywhere, anything you want. It's just been fantastic," Kokshoorn said.

Whittall had said Friday that 27 were missing, but on Saturday he told a news conference the number was 29 — 16 miners employed by the company and 13 contractors.

The coal seam at the mine is reached through a 1.4-mile (2.3-kilometer) horizontal tunnel into the mountain. The seam lies about 650 feet (200 meters) beneath the surface. According to the company's website, the vertical ventilation shaft rises 354 feet (108 meters) from the tunnel to the surface.

Pike River spokesman Dick Knapp confirmed late Friday the mine had been rocked by a gas explosion, but said its cause was still unknown. It also was not clear if all of the workers underground were together.

Deputy Mayor Doug Truman said the blast was so powerful that one of the workers who came out of the mine described being only a mile (1,500 meters) inside the shaft when he was blown off his machine.

"The mine vents have ... scorch marks — so it must have been a reasonably big explosion," Truman told New Zealand's National Radio.

Brownlee said the explosion occurred about 3:45 p.m. (0245 GMT Friday, 9:45 p.m. EST Thursday), and the last contact with any of the miners was about a half-hour later. That contact was with one of the two men who came out.

The two men who surfaced were taken to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries and were being interviewed to determine what happened, Whittall said.

Whittall said the horizontal tunnel would make any rescue easier than a steep-angled shaft.

"We're not a deep-shafted mine so men and rescue teams can get in and out quite effectively, and they'll be able to explore the mine quite quickly," he said.

While Pike River Coal is a New Zealand-registered company, its majority owners are Australian. There are also Indian shareholders.

Pike River has operated since 2008, mining a seam with 58.5 million tons of coal, the largest-known deposit of hard coking coal in New Zealand, according to its website.

It said its coal preparation plant at the site is the largest and most modern in New Zealand and processes up to 1.5 million tons of raw coal a year. It is country's largest single source of coal exports.

The mine is not far from the site of one of New Zealand's worst mining disasters — an underground explosion in the state-owned Strongman Mine on Jan. 19, 1967, that killed 19 workers.

New Zealand has a generally safe mining sector, with 181 people killed in 114 years. The worst disaster was in March 1896, when 65 died in a gas explosion. Friday's explosion occurred in the same coal seam.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand — Search efforts for 29 workers missing after a powerful blast tore through a coal mine in New Zealand were stalled Saturday over fears that a buildup of dangerous gas could trigger a second underground explosion.

Repeated attempts to contact the 16 employees and 13 contract miners after Friday's explosion at the Pike River mine have failed, and it was not known if the men were still alive, Pike River Mine Ltd's chief executive Peter Whittall said. The blast was most likely caused by coal gas igniting, he said.

Two dazed and slightly injured miners stumbled to the surface hours after the blast shot up the mine's 354-foot- (108-meter-) long ventilation shaft. Video from the scene showed blackened trees and light smoke billowing from the top of the rugged mountain where the mine is located, near Atarau on New Zealand's South Island.

Search controller, police superintendent Gary Knowles, said they were still waiting for air test results from the mine before search teams can be sent in.

"As the search commander I'm not prepared to put people on the ground until we can be sure it's a safe environment," he said.

Whittall said the hazard for rescuers was the danger of something sparking a gas explosion.

"Putting on a (protective) suit, putting on a mask, won't protect you if the mine blows up," or protect the missing miners, he said.

It could be days before it is safe enough for special teams to enter the mine, said Tony Kokshoorn, mayor of nearby Greymouth.

New Zealand mourns miners

New Zealand's PM John Key says his country is mourning after a second explosion removed any hope of the 29 trapped miners being alive.

In one shattering moment, days of pent-up emotion finally erupted. Andrew Stevenson reports from Greymouth. For five days a wave of grief had been held at bay by the sustaining power of hope in the small mining communities around Greymouth on the west coast of New Zealand's South Island.

Built by hour and day against the dictates of reason, the constraint of facts about explosions and the realities of fire and gas, hope was all relatives and friends of the 29 miners had.

Then, in one raw moment all hope was dashed.

A second explosion at the Pike River mine, bigger and uglier than the first, ripped through the mine yesterday afternoon. Perhaps the 29 men were already dead; certainly, they are now. The mine, not a hole in the ground but a living, breathing beast, had roared again.

At 2.37 pm, when the Pike River chief executive, Peter Whittall, was at the mine, smoke started spewing from the main shaft. "In my subjective opinion it was larger and stronger and lasted longer and it was not what I wanted to see," he said.

News travels fast in small communities but at 4pm the families and relatives of the 29 missing men walked into the rescue briefing in a Greymouth hall completely ignorant of what had happened. The briefing began as these briefings had for days, with technical talk of bore holes and robots.

"It got started as normal and there was quite a lot of optimism because of the fact the robots were getting down there," the Grey District mayor, Tony Kokshoorn, said.

Then the news. A second explosion, news itself powerful enough to bring people to the floor, sobbing. Whittall told them: "There was an enormous explosion. There's no way anyone could have survived it."

Anger rose quickly; the police, who some believed had frustrated rescue efforts with an over-cautious approach, were the first target.

But love and comfort won out. "We just started consoling each other," Kokshoorn said. "But there were some distraught people."

"This is the west coast's darkest hour, I'm telling you. It doesn't get worse than this."

It's just devastation. They don't know what to do. They just sobbed openly and just fell to the floor."

The police superintendent Gary Knowles also witnessed the explosion. "I was at the mine myself when this occurred and the blast was horrific," he said. "It is our belief that no one has survived and that everyone will have perished."

He then had to face the relatives. "I had to break to news to the families and they are extremely distraught," he said. "This is one of the most tragic things I have had to do as a police officer."

For five days families and relatives had formed an increasingly stern and sombre parade passed the gathered media on their in and out of twice-daily briefings. They went in sombre again yesterday but left weeping and heartbroken.

"It's just blown up. That's it: they're all dead," Lawrie Drew, father of Zen, 21, said. "It blew up again."

Drew was one of several relatives whose frustration had boiled with the pace of the rescue process. Mining folklore says the moments after an explosion are the safest time to enter a mine but no teams were allowed in.

A robot was put down the tunnel and promptly broke down when water dripped from the mine roof and, with the hours ticking by, a search began for another. Safety was paramount.

But not all feel that way. Neville Rockhouse has borne more suffering this week than any man should have to. The mine's safety and training manager, he had two sons - both of whom he had found work for at Pike River - down the mine on Friday.

Daniel, 24, was one of only two men to survive the first blast. After that miraculous escape came the news that night that Neville's father had died from a heart attack. Then yesterday, even more grieving: Ben, 21, was never coming home.

Rockhouse was the first man to reach Whittall after the news was announced. "He gave me a big hug and said, 'We did everything we could,' " the mine manager revealed.

Some will still cling to hope and perhaps recalculate the chances of an even bigger miracle of survival. Whittall refused to rule it out even as the focus switched to recovering the bodies.

"My team are going to have to start assessing tonight, what next?" he said.

"What do we do with the mine? Regardless of what's happened, if the men are no longer alive, which is most likely, I still want them back and the families want them back and we'll be doing everything we can to make that happen."

But another explosion remains a distinct possibility. The mine is still not safe, methane is being released and fire continues. The combustive possibilities remain.

David Bell, a University of Canterbury expert in engineering and mining geology said the methane levels had made a second explosion "almost inevitable". Fire and methane remain in the closed confines of the mine and even retrieving the bodies could take weeks or months.

Hope died swiftly, but the grieving will go on a long time.

"They'd all held out hope that it was their son or their husband or their brother that would be the lucky one. They've all held that hope out, but I'd have to say they are all feeling that hope is now gone." Whittall said.

"They've got a terrible, terrible thing to deal with now."

The Board of Pike River Coal Limited has established a relief fund to support the families and communities of the men who have tragically lost their lives at the Pike River Coal Mine.

Mr Dow noted that New Zealand Oil & Gas Limited had advised him this morning that it would contribute $500,000 to the Fund.

“We will match this with $500,000 from Pike River Coal,” Mr Dow said.

Thus, in their sacrifices, these 29 Miners will leave a legacy and substance to care for the living. This is the meaning of the Good Shepherd being present at the nadir of the two blasts that memorialized the journey of the 29 miners at Pike River Mine.

As the Earth passed the Seven Sisters, these 29 miners were taken up on the Chariot of Fire where Abraham, Elijah, Moses, and Jesus await the arrival in the Mansion of the Sun.

The celestial location was above the Gateway of Men and the Chariot of the Gods where many men have been sacrificed for the sake of their kin.

At the Gateway of Men the Patriarch, Abraham, was told to sacrifice his son (Hebrew Isaac, Muslim Ishmael).

The sacrifice of the son represents the sacrifice of the personal I Am for the sake of the Universal I AM.

The two explosions marked the front and the back side of Abraham in the heavens directly under the Pike River Mine.

In short, this is where the 29 Men went to the Heavenly Abode.

The location at the well of the seven daughters of Jethro is where Moses began his journey to see the Promised Land.

The two nadir positions tell us that the 29 Miners went with Moses while at the overlook to the Promised Land.

The chariot of fire that carried Elijah also carried the 29 Miners, for they left their families behind, as did Elijah.

In the Transfiguration of Christ we are told that a monument was made to signify the communion of Jesus with Elijah and Moses.

Oddly enough Abraham was not part of the transfiguration communion. But Christ, being both Lamb and Son of God, could not sacrifice himself at the Gateway of Men.

Rather, at the nadir location of the 29 Miners we are shown that they were in the Good Shepherd's House.

The four celestial events in the Land Under the Land include the Solar Eclipse of July 11, 2010, Rescue of 33 Miners at San Jose Mine, Rescue of a Christ Child, and the Loss of 29 Miners at the Pike River Mine. Each of these events had cosmic alignments that draw a clear focus on the Celtic Cross that is the ancient Sign of the Times. There are six positions on the arms of the cross including the center, the four circle intersections and the foot of the cross. They mark the axis of the ecliptic plane, the four prime meridians of the ecliptic plane, and the axis of the galaxy. Necessarily there are two Celtic crosses in the heavens, one at the north poles and one at the south poles. Legends tell us that the northern solstitial cross is that of St. Patrick, for he drove the serpents out of Ireland. Legends also tell us that the southern solstitial cross is that of St. Peter, the fisherman whose cross bore him up side down. The four celestial events identify the Four Corners of the Cosmos for which the Four Gospels have been dedicated and named.

In the image above we have the Lamb of Christ surrounded by a Man, a Lion, a Bull, and an Eagle. These are the icons of books of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. The five signs represent Aries, Aquarius, Leo, Taurus, and the combination of Ophiuchus, Aquila, Serpens, and Scorpio, with Antinous and Bootes representing the destination of man when the spirit of man is lifted up in the eagle. The child on the eagle, Aquila, is Antinous, which means not or against the Nous, which is associated with the following definition of nous.

1. Nous in Philosophy.

- a. Reason and knowledge as opposed to sense perception.
- b. The rational part of the individual human soul.
- c. The principle of the cosmic mind or soul responsible for the rational order of the cosmos.
- d. In Stoicism, the equivalent of Logos.
- e. In Neo-Platonism, the image of the absolute good, containing the cosmos of intelligible beings.

The child on the wings of the eagle is that essence for which Revelation is intended as it transits the Great Red Dragon of Scorpio-Libra by being lifted up by the Heavenly Father of Ophiuchus and Serpens to the Great Man of Bootes. Bootes represents the ascended Nous and the "absolute good" of a man relative to the cosmos. Thus, the Gospel of John is revealing the Gateway of Gods.

Moses begins his messianic journey at Jethro's well when he protected the Seven Sisters from the tyrannical shepherds. Jesus came to the same place as the Good Shepherd in the Transfiguration of the Christ.

At the Gateway of Men we are given the witnesses of the Transfiguration in Matt 17, Mark 9, Luke 9.

The Transfiguration is presented in different terms in John 1:26-34 where John's universal perspective comes through.

John the Baptist is the one under the Sacred Waters at the Gateway of Men, while the Father at the Gateway of Gods is He who walks upon the water.

The image is acquired by looking from beyond and beneath the Milky Way back toward Orion in the Mansion of the Sun in the underside of the Milky Way and also beyond Earth upward toward Ophiuchus in the Mansion of the Sun in the upper side of the Milky Way. The Milky Way is the dividing plane between the Earth and Abyss below and the Heaven and Absolute Good above.

A View of Divine Intent

Taste of

Returning to the full view of the Gateway of Gods we see the complete story of the transfiguration of Antinous into Nous.

The day after Venus ended its retrograde movement the 1st Blast occurred at the Pike River Mine.

The day Venus passed the vernal equinox of 1 AD the 2nd Blast Occurred.

During that time period the Sun moved across the Libra - Scorpio boundary at the location of the circumcision of the Great Red Dragon.

Mars and Mercury moved from between the legs of Ophiuchus to the "right" leg spanning the heel of the figure with Mars directly on the meridian.

The meridian had moved between the two blasts from the current winter solstice and the "right arm" of the Father and squared itself with the face of the strong man, Hercules, the Father's Son.

This motion of the meridian is the precessional direction and is associated with the transfiguration of Antinous into Bootes (Nous).

This action takes a prodigal mother's son and makes him a Groom for the Virgin. This is why the region is known as the Gateway of Gods. Here is the place where the sacrifice of the Son of God saves all who achieve victory over the Great Red Dragon and death.

Only those who can visualize the spiritual action of the Four Horses of the Apocalypse (Sagittarius, Scorpio, Libra, Centaurus: I See, I Desire, I Balance, I Transcend) can raise the spirit of prodigal son to that of the Father in Heaven.

All of this transition comes with the sacrifice of 29 Men at the Pike River Mine so as to gain the attention of the human population and to reveal the need to restore the Signs of the Times.

The Anointed One is the one at the center of the solstitial cross that identifies the celestial moment of the I Am.

The Anointed One is in a constant state of birth and death being sacrificed with every passing moment of the I Am, which is Now. Now is not about the past or the future and Now has no value called Time. Those who join the I Am in the Here and Now have found victory over all the bindings of Time.

We are drawn to witness the celestial event by the Synchronicity at Pike River Mine.

In this way, the 29 Men did not die in vain, but were unknowing participants in the Voice of the Lord reestablishing the Signs of the Time, for the Kingdom of Heaven is always at hand.

The Lord of the North is the King of Kings, and the four icons of the Gospel authors tell us that this is the time when the King of the Mansion of the Sun ascends to the north celestial pole. That kingdom arrives as Cepheus when the vernal equinox enters the man, Aquarius, the autumnal equinox enters the lion, Leo, the summer solstice enters the bull, Taurus. Critical to the whole process is the transit of anti-reason to reason as depicted at the Gateway of Gods. The icon of John is a composite.

The Great Red Dragon is defeated in Revelation 12 as the Unbalanced Desire is circumcised into Scorpio and Libra, meaning Balanced Desire, or Nous.

The Father, Ophiuchus, is the winter solstice point of the New Kingdom and the son, Antinous, rides the Eagle to symbolize the restoration of the prodigal human civilization.

It is the relationship with Aquila-Serpens-Virgo that provides the other icon of St. John being a chalice and a serpent. The coiled serpent is a symbol of genetic wisdom, i.e., blood wisdom.

This solstitial cross is from a chapel window at St. John's Seminary in Camarillo, California.

Now we have sufficient information to identify the Signs of the Times for which the sacrifice at the Pike River Mine is a just a blood offering.

The Southern Solstitial Cross is shown above with the clockwise movement of the solstitial beast, the Sacrificial Lamb, the I Am.

The ecliptic arc above the Milky Way represents the Ark of Noah where all the creatures of the Earth are transported from the galactic center to Gemini, two by two.

In the view toward the Northern Solstitial Cross the movement of the Signs of the Times is counterclockwise and the North Pole will remain in the House of the King of Kings for the next eight millennia. The ecliptic arc above the Milky Way represents the Arc of the Covenant that ends counterclockwise at the "Bow in the Cloud." At the top from the arc of the ecliptic to the arc of the galaxy is the Temple of Solomon with Uranus and Jupiter pointing toward the current vernal equinox. These are the Four Corners of the World, and the Four Beasts of the Apocalypse of John. The sacrificial lamb, which is always the I Am of Now, must be restored to its proper place if man is to comprehend the True Universal Word.

To the 29 Souls who rode the Chariot of the Gods and passed through St. John's Gateway, we cherish your memory and we cherish the memory of the Anointed One whose kingdom has no end. He came as Aquarius when man had lost Faith, Hope, and Charity. But, as these 29 Miners went to the Good Shepherd's House, we saw that Time had come to the Virgin as Love was reborn. The majesty of this vision is beyond human words, for they are the Word made Flesh. Although "the grief will never end" these deaths were not in vain. The Creator had no recourse with regard to self centered man. Death is the best reminder that life is a precious gift.

Pike River Mine Explosion Hope died swiftly. A View of Divine Intent Transcendence and the Revelation of John

Four explosions occurred at the Pike River mine, two after Hope Died Swiftly. The span of the zenith meridian expanded to include the Bow In The Cloud and the complete tail of the Great Red Dragon. The Altar of Noah, after whose journey the Bow In The Cloud was seen. The Altar was the Red Crown of Egypt, which represented the cosmic Shepherd's Experience, or maturity.

Here are the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse of John, Sagittarius, Scorpio, Libra, and Centaurus. Their message is simple. The Gateway of Gods is open to those who acquire the Shepherd's Experience. The Shepherd's Experience is the rational order of the heavens and the earth, and the Great Red Dragon casts the 3rd Part of the Stars of Heaven to the Earth (ecliptic). The depth of symbolism is substantial, and even the hieroglyph for god is present in the mouth of the male crocodile.

At the Gateway of Men we witness the Son of Man whose raised arm was at the Summer Solstice where the Moon set at 2:37 pm when Hope Died. If we allow the Moon to speak it tells us that the 1st Explosion occurred on the east line of Pisces where the Vernal Sun set in 30 AD, the year the Son of God died. When the second explosion occurred, Hope Died at the Pike River Mine, and the Moon sat at the Northern Summer Solstice of 2010. When the third explosion occurred at the Pike River Mine, the Moon sat at the Northern Summer Solstice of 1 AD when the Son of God was born in Bethlehem. When the fourth explosion occurred at the Pike River Mine the Moon sat at the front paw of the Lion of Judah in the Kingdom of Heaven.

The nadir oscillated back and forth on the Chariot of the Gods as the meridian bound the Son of Man and the Bands of Orion were revealed in the midst. Yet, the sweet influences of the Pleiades still carried the shadow of the Earth to the Hyades, and Jethro's Well. Around the planet that is the Woman clothed in the Sun with the Moon under foot there was great Lunacy regarding the Son of Man and the Son of God. The journey of the Moon across the Gateway of Men from Judas Iscariot to the boundary marking the 1st of Cancer spans the whole spring season at the beginning of the Common Era.

The descending lunar node was passed between the second and third explosion in the House that carried the Summer Solstice for the complete passing of the Common Era. Yet, nowhere in the annals of Western Civilization are we told that the Northern Summer Solstice occurred at the Tropic of Gemini. Blinded by the Children of Aries, the Children of Pisces were in a catatonic state of mind as if the stars themselves had lost all comprehension.

Now that the Northern Summer Solstice is in the House of St. Luke (Taurus), the true summer solstice of Gemini cannot ever occur, for by the time the summer solstice returns to Twins will have lost their heads as the stars that gave birth to the "I Think" lose their heads up position due to proper motion of Castor and Pollux. The bodies will remain essentially intact, however the Sacred Name might better be "I Elude" or "I Distort" as comprehension passes by.

As the 2nd Explosion occurred the Moon sat upon the dragline of the foot of the Man in Gemini. A constellation whose sacred name is "I Think" never received the thoughts of Man. Instead, the Twins of Auriga and Perseus are struggling with the Head of Orion, a.k.a., John the Baptist, for the money bag hidden in the satchel of the Medusa. The message of the Transfiguration of Christ needs to be heard loud and clear, and it would appear that 29 Miners in Pike River Mine were sacrificed to remind us where we are. We have worn the Red Crown of the Great Shepherd Experience and we now have the Taste of Death to remind us that a Life Filled with Thought has passed us by.

Mark 9

¹And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not TASTE of DEATH, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power. ²And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them. ³And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them. ⁴And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. ⁵And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. ⁶For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid. ⁷And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. ⁸And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves. ⁹And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead. ¹⁰ And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

Revelation 7:17

For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters:
and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

Between August 5 and October 13, 2010 thirty-three miners were trapped a half mile underground as Venus traversed the full body of Virgo. Within five days after Venus went retrograde the miners were rescued. The four days later St. Mary MacKillop became the first Australian saint. On the day the Venus ended retrograde motion a child was rescued from a well in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Within twenty-four hours the Pike River Mine exploded and 29 Miners were trapped as Venus passed the Autumn Equinox of 1 AD.

The journey of Venus through Virgo marked two very important dates, the Autumnal Equinoxes of 1 AD and 2010 AD. Miraculous rescues and sanctification occurred and then came the sacrifice at Pike River Mine. The times marked by the four explosions at the Pike River Mine revealed the Messianic Message of the whole age when Virgo held the Autumn Equinox. All of these events and correspondences have a direct relationship with the Total Solar Eclipse at Easter Island on July 11, 2010. They all tell us that we have failed to maintain a working understanding of the Signs of the Times and that we must restore awareness of them to avoid chaos. Venus became a technical Morning Star on October 18, 2010 the day after Mary MacKillop was canonized. Venus became a visible light before dawn when it came out of retrograde and passed the Autumn Equinox of 1 AD.

Revelation 22:16-50 (King James Version)

¹⁶I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star. ¹⁷And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. ¹⁸For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book: ¹⁹And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. ²⁰He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. ²¹The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

When we back off from the travails in the Land Down Under and widen our view, we witness in the heavens the words of Revelation 12:1-5. Every detail of the movement of Venus and the rescues and deaths in the Land Down Under tell us that human justice does not rise to Divine Justice. Venus crossed the ecliptic going down as it entered the modern constellation of Virgo. Passing the star Spica, the Virgin's alpha star, the planet identified with Love entered the Claws of the Great Red Dragon and turned back. Then came the rescue of 33 Miners at the San Jose Mine and four days later the first saint of Australia is canonized. The person of the saint, Mary MacKillop, was excommunicated for a short period because she stood up against child abuse within her church.

As Venus came back to the "Womb of Virgo" and turned around at the end of 40 days of retrograde, a three year old child was rescued from a well. Following the rescue of the child in Argentina, an explosion at the Pike River Mine near Atarau, New Zealand trapped 29 Miners as 2 Miners escaped. Over the following nine days three explosions at the Pike River Mine resulted in the transition of the 29 Miners as their travail revealed the Four Horses of the Apocalypse. The time message from the solar eclipse at Easter Island to the fourth explosion at the Pike River Mine is that the stars reveal the Mind of God.

The Astronomy, or what it is...

The phenomenon known as Venus Retrograde occurs approximately every 20 months when, for about forty days, Venus travels in reverse motion against the backdrop of stars. Of course, it doesn't really move backwards, but only appears to do so from our point of view here on Earth.

The Astrology, or what it means...

Mythical and astrological conjecture about the nature of the planet Venus has been prominent and consistent since ancient times. Her high visibility and her morning and evening phases have made her one of the most closely observed planets. Babylonian and Mesoamerican astrologers paid close attention to her cycles, particularly to her first appearance as a morning star, which was considered a dangerous time.

The Babylonians called Venus the double-phased Ishtar -- the morning star of war and the evening star of love. Greek astrologers called the morning phase of Venus Lucifer ("the light bearer") and the evening phase Hesperus ("setting in the West"). The Mesoamericans linked the morning phase of Venus with Quetzalcoatl, one of their major gods, believing that this was a time when leaders are struck down and natural disasters occur.

Luke 4:1-8 (KJV)

And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered. And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread. And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will I give it. If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

During the retrograde of Venus the Sun passes the planet as we witness the event from earth. In the Solar based traditions the forty days of the wandering of Venus are acknowledged by Luke 4:1-8. The high mountain is the top of the galaxy with the Rock under the feet of Bootes (Atlas) and the wheat of Coma Berenices. This is the destination of all who succeed in passing through the Gateway of Gods. Although the astrologers cast lots for the Raiment of the Sun, the glorious characteristics of Venus have long fed the hearts of man. Certainly during the period from the solar eclipse on July 11, 2010 and the fourth explosion at Pike River on November 28, 2010, Venus was resplendent. The 139 days of the voyage of Venus from Regulus to the second entry into Libra provided a Revelation of Cosmic Order. And on December 25, 2010, Venus will rest in the "Man Child with the Hand of Iron" when Love and Justice are united. From the Help Meet being placed in Eden to the journey of Peter and James to the Transfiguration, Revelation has always come with the Help Meet that is intuition. Judging from the movements of the head stars of Gemini, it is apparent that "he never knew what hit him" as the Help Meet passed by.

So, now that we have seen the past return in the heavens between July 11, 2010 and November 28, 2010 it is time to look toward the Heavenly Father. The chart above shows that Mercury will go retrograde on December 11, 2010 and come out of retrograde at the "hallow of the thigh" on December 31, 2010. This leg of the asterism of Ophiuchus has been used in many legends of the Creator in masculine form. This form is the rational form, and as if by confirmation, Mars sat upon the knee of the Father when the fourth explosion occurred at the Pike River Mine.

Mercury has been a symbol of wisdom for as long as there are records of the observations of the planet. Thus, it is very synchronistic that Mercury should go retrograde in the Bow in the Cloud, of which many nations have said, "In this sign you shall conquer." What is conquered by sagacity? It is the rational mind witnessing the synchronicity of the body and the heavens, As Above, so Below. That which is conquered is the Gateway of Gods, where rational man attaches emotional man without destroying the senses of the beast.

Revelation 6:1-8 (KJV)

¹ And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. ² And I saw, and behold a white horse: and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer. ³ And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see. ⁴ And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword. ⁵ And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand. ⁶ And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine. ⁷ And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see. ⁸ And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

The text of Rev 6:1-8 is telling us of the four posts at the Gateway of Gods. Those who acquire the power to become Sons of God mount these four beasts as the four elements of creation. The White Horse with Bow and Crown refers to Sagittarius and Corona Australis and the Wisdom that is the Spirit of Truth. The horse is white by virtue of the Milky Way. The Red Horse with the Power and Sword to take peace from the earth is Scorpio and the Physical Desire that empowers emotional action. The horse is red by virtue of the red giant star Antares at the heart of the beast. The Black Horse with the Balances is Libra. This is the rationalizing nature of the mind required to correspond with creation; cost of things is a ration. The blackness is due to the asterism being beyond the Milky Way. The Pale Horse whose name is Death and who leads the way to Hell (Hades) is Centaurus, whose pale characteristic comes from the location on the fringe of the Milky Way.

To comprehend these signs of Fire, Water, Air, and Earth we must put the whole Universe together with all the Words of God. The Centaur fights the Wolf who stands upon the dark rift that is at the mouth of the Cave of the Dead and symbolizes the Mouth of God, for on the wall of the cave is the Egyptian hieroglyph for neter, or god. The Red Crown that represented the Shepherd's Experience of death is the crown of pragmatic understanding regarding life. When joined with the White Crown of Egypt the wearer was capable of Virgin Experience, which means that the sacrifice of the virgin results in learning. It is the death of the virgin that opens the door of the Gateway of Gods. The centaur stands on a skull with the Southern Cross between his legs in Golgotha.

However, the idea of death causes irrational emotion in virgins who do not comprehend that life continues after the death of the virgin. In the ancient mysteries the Centaur Chiron was a ferryman for lost souls and his rafts crossed the River Styx (Death). After passing through Hades the Phoenix rises like the vessel at the rescues at the San Jose Mine and the dead who are saved ascend to the eternal kingdom.

This is the passage through late Pisces, for which all the celestial events between the solar eclipse at Easter Island and the fourth explosion at Pike River are focused. This is not a matter of "faith," rather it is a matter of Synchronicity that cannot occur without faith. As youth we are taught to believe. As adults we are expected to understand what we believe by raising the serpent in the wilderness and witnessing the death of our virgin soul.

Revelation 12:13-14 (KJV)

¹³ And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. ¹⁴ And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

There are four constellation asterisms involved in the cosmic distance of “a time, times, and half a time.” They are Libra as a time at the head of the serpent, Serpens Caput. Scorpio and Ophiuchus as times in the body of the serpent. And Sagittarius to the end of the serpent, Serpens Cauda. At the tail of the serpent being lifted by Ophiuchus, the Father, are the two wings of the eagle, Aquila. This woman with two eagle wings is also known as Nike (Victory). The victory is over death, for on the eagle's back lays the nobleman's child in John 4:47. The asterism is named Antinous and is no longer identified by astronomers, but there are many presentations of it.

Antinous is the Mother's Child, as was Quetzalcoatl of the Native Americans.

The journey across the Gateway of Gods passes through the galactic center. One undeniable fact is revealed at this location. All life known to man has its source at this location. This is the real Cosmic Womb of life, for it gave birth to hundreds of billions of stars, one of which is Sol.

Having restored the Nobleman's Child, which is a metaphor for valued experience; we now complete the journey through the Cosmic Womb. Four constellations are outlined in the chart above. From the left they are the Heavenly Mother's Place at Aquila with Antinous at the mouth of Quetzalcoatl and Tauret. The tail portion of the Serpent is in the "right hand of the Father." The head portion of the Serpent is in the "left hand of the Father." The action of the Father is to separate the tail and the head and to open the ouroboros so that the emotional body and the rational mind have been discriminated. This is required to complete St. Paul's proscription from 1 Corinthians 13:11. "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things."

The Assyrian seal shows a man killing a stork (baby) and Ahura Mazda above a "womb of enlightenment" in the realm of the Dagon; i.e., Pisces. Upon achieving the mature status the journey arrives at Bootes, the Groom of the Virgin in the field of 72 Virgins.

The first king of Egypt was shown as he stepped onto the welcome mat of the heavenly field.

The Sacred Science of Egypt has left a profound mark upon Western Civilization. It was decidedly rational and spiritual throughout its history because it elevated genetic wisdom through the conservation of the Body of Osiris. Adamist Man took a different perspective and placed rational knowledge above genetic wisdom with the consequence of repressed emotion; the serpent and Eve. In searching of images of the Deshret, or Red Crown, of Egypt a date was presented that seemed too synchronistic to avoid.

According to Andis Kaulins in his essay titled "The Origin of the Cult of Horus in Predynastic Egypt" the founding of Egypt was synchronized with an annular solar eclipse on December 25, 3117 BC. Kaulins claims "The Horus Falcon Names are a Calendar of Kings: The calendar begins on December 25, 3117 B.C. (astronomically -3116)."

For the present purposes the introduction of this solar eclipse is to illustrate the Synchronicity of celestial events. The present essay is an analysis of a solar eclipse over Easter Island and the sacrifice of 29 Miners at Pike River Mine in New Zealand. When we look at the eclipse identified by Kaulins we find an amazing Synchronicity. The eclipse of December 25, 3117 BC was visible at Pike River. The path of the eclipse went across Antarctica very near the South Pole.

The question arises regarding the potential for pre-Dynastic Egyptians to witness the eclipse. It seems beyond the possibility that it would have been feasible to witness the eclipse. It also seems beyond the probability that it was calculated. So, let's not consider the factual basis of the assertions made by Andis Kaulins. Let's simply return to the focus of the present essay. The analysis of the Easter Island eclipse of 2010 and the subsequent events in the heavens and on the earth demonstrated clear lack of Synchronicity in modern society. The loss of Synchronicity—as above, so below—is a direct result of the erasure of the asterisms which clearly date to the time before the founding of Egypt, for which Kaulins has many supporters in the Egyptologist establishment.

The primary material value of ancient celestial observations was the ability to synchronize activities on earth with events in the heavens, specifically seasons, days, etc. More to the point, the whole Age of Pisces has lost its orientation to the heavens and the Word of God recorded therein. The mythological evidence from the ancient legends is that darkness would fall upon the earth and man would get lost in chaos as a result. For people dependent upon the earth-sky relationships this would be a devastating state, and they built monuments in the attempt to overcome the arrogance of man.

Alas, the monuments did not prevent the arrogance of man, which the ancients clearly understood they wouldn't. But, those same monuments restore the Synchronicity between Heaven and Earth when we align them with the heavens in accordance with their design. As such, the monuments restore the Synchronicity of the Cosmic Soul of Man. For that reason, the eclipse of December 25, 3117 BC is precisely on topic and must not be ignored simply because its rational basis is weak.

Two thousand years ago the Republic of Rome fell into an unimaginable tyranny of arrogance. The wealth to build monuments to Cosmic Synchronicity was not provided. However, the Hellenistic Period was one in which the cultures attempted to establish monuments and libraries to overcome the decline on man. What we have today is the Septuagint Bible and the New Testament as records of the last people in the West who understood the relationship between Heaven and Earth.

In the Gospel of John and in the Revelation of John we have enough information to restore the ancient relationship between heaven and Earth. However, in order to accomplish the Synchronicity we must align the solstitial cross of the Anointed One to the Four Corners of the World. If we do not accomplish the reorientation of Man, then the prediction of the seven plagues in Revelation is assured. Western Civilization will again fall into arrogant tyranny as the Lords of Xibalba (rational governments) bind humanity to laws without common sense. That was the problem for which the Giza Complex was constructed and it was the problem for which the New Testament was compiled. The problem is the egocentric disintegration of Man.

Giza, Summer Solstice, Alnitak 2378 AD

The Giza complex was laid out to identify any specific time in the future when the Son of Man had risen again, and one for which the Heavens and Earth would be aligned. This time is when the causeway alignment of the Son Pyramid (Micerinus) with the self representing star Mintaka in the belt of Orion, who symbolized the Son of Man. During the same Synchronicity the causeway of the Mother Pyramid (Chephren) would align with alpha Virgo, Spica, at the womb of the Virgin. Also, at the same Synchronicity the causeway of the Father Pyramid (Cheops) would align with the alpha Ophiuchus, Rasalhague at the head of the Heavenly Father. The alignment will occur in 2378 AD when the vernal sun enters the house of Aquarius and the north pole enters in the house of Cepheus, the King of Kings.

Looking west through the Great Pyramid of Cheops we see the star channels to the heavens to the south were alignments from Isis, Osiris, and Seth (Canis Major, Orion, Lepus). This was the time when the Grand Gallery was usurped by Seth, the slayer of Osiris. This was the time when the Sentiment for Osiris ruled the mind of man as dead ancestors guided living offspring by the words of the Books of the Dead. Osiris was the complete record of the Human Experience in mind and body and substance and spirit. The legend had it that because Osiris was a Great Man who taught rightness to humanity, he would be reincarnated after his death. That reincarnation would require that Isis become pregnant with sentiment from the dead Body of Osiris and give birth to the new Horus that would restore the Black Land of the First Father. The Black Land was the darkness from which the Light first immersed when the Demiurge, Re, first intended that there be Life on Earth. Kemet means Black Land, and Egypt. It is all a legend built around the visions of Man of the Mansion of the Sun and the correlation "as above, so below."

However, the legendary myth reveals that Cosmic Reality known to sentient human beings was the Will of the Creator. Man's arrogance would cause the Light of the Sun to go dark and the Darkness would not comprehend the Light of Primordial Intent until the First Father was restored as Light of the World and the Truth of Creation as empowered by the Spirit of Truth that was the Falcon of Horus.

John 1:1-8 (KJV)

¹In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. ²The same was in the beginning with God. ³All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. ⁴In him was life; and the life was the light of men. ⁵And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not. ⁶There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. ⁷The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe. ⁸He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

It is the prophetic return of the Spirit of Truth for which the Grand Gallery was designed and aligned. In the prophetic years around 2378 AD, the light of the Falcon of Horus will come down the Grand Gallery and be reflected upon the Sea of Reeds up to the eternal Kingdom of Heaven. Once this prophecy was determined to be factual science, then the Wisdom of the Ancients would be restored to the whole human race. Then, the Compassionate Son of the Mother of God will come down to Earth in His appointed hour.

John 2:3-4 (KJV)

³And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. ⁴Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

At the appointed hour there would be no more tears, and the Compassionate Son, Hapi, would bring the Life Giving Waters. On the vernal equinox of 2378 the Giza Star Gate will open as the Cup Bearer comes forth in his hour.

At Pike River on that same rising of the Vernal Sun, Jonah the Prophet will present itself in the Land Under the Land at the Pike River Mine.

Luke 11:29-35 (KJV)

²⁹And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet. ³⁰For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. ³¹The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here. ³²The men of Nineve shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. ³³No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light. ³⁴The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness. ³⁵Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

Nowhere around the Earth at any epoch of Man has there ever been a time when the Synchronicity between Heaven and Earth failed to present a Moment of Truth. The Spirit of Truth, which is the Holy Spirit, must be synchronized in the hearts and minds of those mortals who have the capacity to witness the Spirit of Truth. That is when the Word becomes Flesh, and it is not a moment in time, it is every Synchronicity with the I Am that is between the two thieves of the Past and the Future.

Luke 4:3-5 (KJV) tells us when to pay attention, “and the devil said unto him, ‘If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.’ And Jesus answered him, saying, ‘It is written, that man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.’ And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.” When the Spirit of Truth says, “I Am,” then it is that Man should pay attention to the Signs of the Times.

This essay has touched on the celestial manna that was bound to the Sacred Science and Sacred Scriptures of Western Man. The information is not as complex as it is overwhelmingly abundant. For this we must yield to St. John in John 21:25. And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

Glastonbury Holy Thorn Tree destroyed: locals offer cash reward

<http://swns.com/glastonbury-holy-thorn-tree-destroyed-locals-offer-cash-reward-101500.html>

Devastated locals were preparing to stump up a cash reward today to catch those responsible for destroying one of the most sacred sites in Britain.

Cruel vandals felled the Holy Thorn Tree, which can trace its roots back 2,000 years to the death of Jesus, in Glastonbury, Somerset on Wednesday night (8/12).

The tree is claimed to have sprouted from the staff of Joseph of Arimathea, who prepared the burial tomb for Jesus after lifting him off the cross.

Stunned members of the community were reduced to tears after branches of the shrub were hacked off and dumped around the base of its trunk.

Now it has emerged they are preparing a fighting fund in a bid to name and shame those responsible.

Locals were also placed on high alert over the other three sacred holy thorn trees in the town – taking it in turns to keep watch over the landmarks.

Glastonbury Town Mayor John Coles, 66, said: "I have just come up from the town and everybody is asking me about it – they are all very sad.

"I have heard an unconfirmed sighting of a group of people dragging something along the hill at about 10.30pm at night, but we are not yet sure who is responsible.

"I have also had locals telling me they are collecting a cash reward to try and find whoever did this.

"I'm sure more people will come forward with more money to try and name and shame them.

"We hope it will loosen tongues in the area."

Rev David MacGeoch, from St John's Church in Glastonbury, said his parishioners were keeping an eye on the two Holy Thorn trees in its yard.

He said: "We have told everyone to be vigilant. Our trees are quite well protected anyway but we are making sure there are people around to keep an eye on them.

"The police have been patrolling around the grounds too."

Experts had verified that the felled tree – known as the Crategus Monogyna Bi Flora – originated from the Middle East.

Christian legend dictates that Jesus' great uncle, Joseph of Arimathea, came to Britain after the crucifixion 2,000 years ago bearing the Holy Grail – the cup used by Christ at the Last Supper.

He visited Glastonbury and thrust his staff into Wearyall Hill, just below the Tor, planting a seed for the original thorn tree.

Oliver Cromwell's Roundheads felled the tree during the English Civil War, when Parliament waged a vicious battle against the Crown.

However, locals salvaged the roots of the original tree, hiding it in secret locations around Glastonbury.

It was then replanted on the hill in 1951. Other cuttings were also grown and placed around the town – including its famous Glastonbury Abbey.

Avon and Somerset Police confirmed they were still investigating the axed tree today and had made no arrests.

Wearyall Hill to the south west of Glastonbury had the Holy Thorn Tree

http://www.londontoolkit.com/whattodo/glastonbury_wearyall_hill.htm

Wearyall Hill is a long narrow ridge to the south west of Glastonbury. On the hill is the Holy Thorn. The original was said to have blossomed from the staff of Joseph of Armithea whom legend says he visited Glastonbury, (see our Glastonbury myths and legends page). He arrived, weary (hence Wearyall Hill), planted his staff in the ground and it immediately blossomed.

The tree was seen as sacred, blossoming at Christmas and Easter, marking the birth and resurrection of Jesus Christ).

Wearyall Hill is just 5/10 minutes walk from the centre of Glastonbury.

Just walk down Magdalene Street south to meet the A361 road and then turn right along the A361 towards Street. Cross to the southern side of the road and when the houses finish, you will see the footpath slanting up the hill.

Note this is not a properly made footpath, it is not suitable for wheelchairs, prams etc.

You can drive up to the top of the hill, but it's a very narrow road (Hill Head, see map below), with very limited parking. Best to leave your car in the housing estate along Tor View Avenue and walk up Hill Head.

The tree is not protected and Wearyall Hill itself is totally open access.

There are a few seats with great views just a little further along the ridge from the tree, a great place for a picnic.

Each year a sprig of thorn is cut, by the local Anglican vicar and the eldest child from St John's School, and sent to the Queen.

Many other examples of the thorn grow throughout Glastonbury including those in the grounds of Glastonbury Abbey, St Johns Church and Chalice Well. The picture above is of the Thorn in Glastonbury Abbey.

Glastonbury is a long drive from London, by private car it will take around 3 hours. There are day tours from London though that operate several times a week by a couple of small group tour specialists. The large coach tour operators do not come to Glastonbury which only adds to its attraction.

Were anti-Christians behind pilgrimage site attack? 2,000-year-old Holy Thorn Tree of Glastonbury is cut down

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-1337159/Glastonburys-2000-year-old-Holy-Thorn-Tree-hacked-vandals.html>

Standing proudly on the side of an English hill, its religious roots go back 2,000 years. But a single night of vandalism has left an ancient site of pilgrimage in splinters.

The Holy Thorn Tree of Glastonbury has been chopped down in what is being seen by some as a deliberately anti-Christian act.

A feature of the skyline surrounding the Somerset town, the tree has been visited by thousands retracing the steps said to have been taken by Joseph of Arimathea, who some say was Jesus' great uncle.

According to legend, Saint Joseph travelled to the spot after Christ was crucified, taking with him the Holy Grail of Arthurian folklore.

He is said to have stuck his wooden staff – which had belonged to Jesus – into the ground on Wearyall Hill before he went to sleep. When he awoke it had sprouted into a thorn tree, which became a natural shrine for Christians across Europe.

To add to its sacred status, the tree 'miraculously' flowered twice a year – once at Christmas and once at Easter. It survived for hundreds of years before it was chopped down by puritans in the Civil War, but secret cuttings of the original were taken and planted around the town.

It is from one of the new plants that a replacement tree was planted in the original spot over 50 years ago.

Yesterday residents of Glastonbury wept as they surveyed the damage done to the tree on Wednesday night. Katherine Gorbing, curator of the town's abbey, said: 'The mindless vandals who have hacked down this tree have struck at the heart of Christianity.'

'It is the most significant of all the trees planted here and can be linked back to the origins of Christianity.'

'When I arrived at the Abbey this morning you could look over to the hill and see it was not there.'

'It's a great shock to everyone in Glastonbury – the landscape of the town has changed overnight.'

Every winter a sprig of thorns from one of the town's trees is sent to the Queen to be used as a table decoration on Christmas Day.

Glastonbury mayor John Coles, 66, took part in the annual cutting ceremony last week using the tree at St John's Church.

Yesterday he recalled watching a tree being planted on Wearyall Hill in 1951 for the Festival of Britain. Although that specimen died, it was replaced the following year and stood firm until this week. Mr Coles said: 'It's the saddest thing I've seen in Glastonbury. Some of the main trunk is there but the branches have been sawn away. I am absolutely lost for words.'

Experts had verified that the tree – known as the Crategus Monogyna Bi Flora – originated from the Middle East.

Avon and Somerset police have begun an investigation but because there was no tree preservation order on the Holy Thorn, it means the vandals are unlikely to be prosecuted. The land on which the Holy Thorn stood is owned by Edward James, who was arrested this week in connection with an investigation into failed currency exchange firm Crown Currency Exchange, of which he is a director.

According to the administrator's report, Crown Currency collapsed owing £16million with little more than £3million in the bank. Last night there was speculation that the attack on the Holy Thorn may have been part of a vendetta against him.

Mark 11:12-23 (King James Version)

And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry: And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. And Jesus answered and said unto it, "No man eat fruit of thee hereafter forever." And his disciples heard it. And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves; and would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple. And he taught, saying unto them, "Is it not written, my house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? But ye have made it a den of thieves." And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people were astonished at his doctrine. And when even was come, he went out of the city. And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots. And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, "Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away." And Jesus answering saith unto them, "Have faith in God. For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, 'Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.'"

Back Cover of The Christ Conspiracy: The Greatest Story Ever Sold

"Exposes the conspiracy of the soul ..." Kenn Thomas, Steamshovel Press

"... may well be the most dangerous and important book of our time ... " Adam Parfrey,
Cult Rapture

“... a book of true enlightenment.” Barbara Walker, The Women's Encyclopedia of Myths and Secrets

Contrary to popular belief, there was no single man at the genesis of Christianity, but many characters rolled into one. The majority of these characters were personifications of the ubiquitous solar myth, whose adventures were well known, as reflected in the stories of such popular deities as Mithra, Hercules, Dionysus and many others throughout the Roman Empire and beyond. In reality, the story of Jesus as portrayed in the Gospels is nearly identical to that of the earlier savior-gods Krishna and Horus. These redeemer tales are similar not because they reflect the actual exploits of a variety of men who did and said identical things, but because they represent the same extremely ancient core of knowledge that revolved around the celestial bodies and natural forces.

In this highly controversial and explosive book, archaeologist, historian, mythologist, and linguist Acharya S marshals an enormous amount of startling evidence to demonstrate that Christianity and the story of Jesus Christ were created by members of various secret societies, mystery schools and religions in order to unify the Roman empire under one state religion. In making such a fabrication, this multinational cabal drew upon a multitude of myths and rituals that already existed long before the Christian era, and reworked them for centuries into the story and religion passed down today.

The words on the back cover of The Christ Conspiracy: The Greatest Story Ever Sold reveal the evidence of a stellar conspiracy based upon a “preponderance of evidence” acquired from the “words of man.” At no place in the book does the author, D. M. Murdock, a.k.a., Acharya S, discuss the “Words of God.” This loss of meaning she does purposely because of a severe mental block caused by a phenomenon known as “penis envy.” (<http://www.answers.com/topic/penis-envy>) The cause of the opposing and as yet unidentified bipolar dysfunction which is herein called “yoni envy” is what led Cain to slay Abel. (e.g, <http://yoniversum.nl/yoniyonintro.html>) The bipolar dysfunctions are what Freud identified as the Oedipus Complex (<http://www.answers.com/oedipus%20complex>).

Cain was a tiller of the soil, which indicates he was a man of the earth (rational-material). But, Abel was a keeper of the animals, which indicates that Abel was a man of emotion and sensitivity (emotional-spiritual). It was the emotion and sensitivity that the younger child possessed being closer to the Great Yoni (Eve, Mother of All) that made his gifts more acceptable than Cain's. The Biblical Lord had made Eve of the rib of Adam and, as such, she was a protector of the heart of Adamist Man. But, when Cain was sent to the Land of Nod, which was east of Eden, the celestial inference was as if Cain had yet to live, and was reacting to an immature condition of being the Mother's First Born Son. The Genesis story is telling its readers that First Born children tend to expect total affection from the Great Yoni. To a new born human a parent is more than human. The parent is a god, if not "The God" for the child.

The essential question Acharya S raises is whether Cain and Abel were legends of man reincorporated into the Bible, or were they part of the greater myth around a star called Sol? And, if the stars told the story of a Gardener who killed a Shepherd who was his brother, born from the same Great Yoni, was the star mythos fabricated by mankind? Let me repeat. Did the stars record the Mythos of the Journey of Cain in Synchronicity with the historical events indicated in the mythos of Abel? This point was never considered in the tome of The Christ Conspiracy. It is mandatory to consider the possibility that the stars originated the mythos that occupied the collective mind of man represented by the myth of Cain, regardless of culture or continent. If the stars originated the Collective Mythos, then that would be "scientific proof" of a Creator, e.g., Biblical God, and proof that Abel was the "Beloved Son" who was not a First Born of the Father, but a Last Born Mother's Son.

The study of such mythos would be a "Sacred Science" and that is precisely what it was called by the cultures that developed the mythos after a minimum of 40,000 years. Evidence in Australia suggests that the mythos was being recorded on rock art sixty millennia before the advent of Jesus Christ. The Christ Conspiracy book uses the pre-existent mythos to prove that Jesus Christ was not an historical person. Had Acharya S stuck to this "fact" she would have come to the proper conclusion that Jesus Christ is the "His Story" that is the Word of God who was the Son of God that came to Earth two millennia before the present and at least two centuries before the Christian Gospels were compiled. Being a Shepherd, and the Anointed Son, Jesus Christ would be a new Abel of emotional spiritual origins slain by the rational material dysfunction herein called "penis envy" and "yoni envy" derived from the bipolar origins of the genes of "Historical Man. If we allow the Sacred Science to be the collected experience of human "conscience" throughout the world as derived from the celestial script, what Plato called the Embroidery of the Heavens, then the Gospels represent a compilation of the Great Hall of Records used for the acquisition of the Wisdom of Creation since man began the process of creating names for spiritual experiences.

Human Conscience requires the pre-existence of a collective conscious experience in the hearts and minds of a collective human social body, i.e., a culture. If Jesus Christ represented the collective human conscience derived from prior human conscience, then the evidence of the historicity of Christ must be based upon the formal union of the hearts and minds in a common culture. This formal union would be the merging of the "penis envy" and "yoni envy" of the immature human culture. There can be no doubt that this occurred at the time of the initiation of the Roman Empire under Caesar Augustus. Thus, the question that needs to be answered is whether the "Word of God became Flesh." That question can only be answered within each individual heart and mind when the individual acquires a conscience on the day of the Last Judgment of the unified "penis-yoni envy." This is the moment when a Conscience is "born again." Thus, if such transfiguration of the Word of God occurred when Egypt was annexed by the Roman Empire, then the Birth and Death of the Christ is historical fact.

Why did man attempt to gather the Great Hall of Records into Sacred Scriptures? The answer is provided in John 21:25. And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen. Let the idea that humans had been acquiring knowledge for 60,000 years be coupled with the wisdom gained by the Neanderthals for over 250,000 years and the purpose of the Gospels becomes quite clear. During the Hellenistic Age the culture of the region had set the lofty goal of documenting all the great scriptures of man. This included all subjects. The purpose of the wisdom gathering initiated by Alexander the Great and carried out in Alexandria within the walls of the Great Library of Alexandria was to provide a redacted history of the Journey of Man, specifically Western Man from the Hindu Cush to the Pillars of Hercules (Gibraltar), from the Plains of Georgia to the Ethiopia. One group had a head start in the compilation process, the Levites of the Hebrews. As a result, within forty years of the death of Alexander the first book of the Hellenic Sacred History was published as the Torah in the Septuagint Bible under Ptolemy II Philadelphus (king of Egypt 283–246 BC), who wanted it for the royal library.

The canon of the Old Testament that Catholics use is based on the text used by Alexandrian Jews, a version known as the "Septuagint" ... and which came into being around 280 B.C. as a translation of then existing texts from Hebrew into Greek by 72 Jewish scribes (the Torah was translated first, around 300 B.C., and the rest of Tanach was translated afterward).

While we are on the subject of the Sons of Eve, we should not forget that the third son of Eve had the same name as the third son of Nut. In the older version of the Egyptian creation story that “came up out of Egypt,” it was the third son of Eve whose aspect was the “Name Soul” who conspired with 72 Cohorts to place the first son of Nut, Osiris, in a “perfect fitting box” and seal it with lead and send it down the river of Egypt where it came ashore in the Land of Byblos, i.e., a library of human history.

Given that Alexander the Great was the Son of Amun who initiated the Ptolemaic Dynasty, we would not be far afield to assume that the 72 Hebrew Scribes who compiled the Septuagint according to the Septuagint legend were consorts of the third son of Eve. The Sethian culture of Egypt placed rational existence above all other forms of the cosmic soul. As such, they would keep the Sacred Name of the founder of their culture. The struggle of the Sons of Seth would be to confine the Sacred Cow of Cosmic Matter into a book of names, as was the purpose of Adamist Man. In other words, to rationalize material existence.

The children of Nut and Geb were five constellations around Orion including Columba, Lepus, Canis Major, and Canis Minor. The lay lines of the stars for these constellations at the time of the construction of the Giza Complex are shown in the images below.

The Penis Envy of D. M. Murdock a.k.a. Acharya S as shown on the back cover and Pages 280-281

The intent of the story of the Giza Complex has to do with the return of Horus down the Grand Gallery to be reflected upward to the King of Kings. He was Time itself, and the Greeks called him Chronos, while the Egyptians called him Khufu, and history has called him Cepheus, while the Christian story calls him Caiaphas and Peter. It was the name Peter, meaning rock, that proves that the Ben-ben of Egypt was the foundation stone of Christianity. When we allow the stars to speak the Word of God we witness the Return of Horus as the Christian Holy Spirit descends to the Pool of Reflection and returns to the Face of the King of Kings.

Giza, Summer Solstice, Alnitak 2378 AD

When we know the stars of the heavens as well as the Old People of the Celestial Mythos knew them, we see a remarkable vision. This vision is the Light of the World and an essence of the Living Soul which has the name Truth, and has the attribute of Columba, whose name was Horus throughout the dynasties of Egypt. The Giza Complex was designed to be a place where Horus, a.k.a., Truth would come to build a nest when the axis of Earth returned to the King of the Kings from the Pillars of Hercules to stand for 8500 years under the Kingdom of Horus. The Egyptians knew that before the ascension of Orion and the Return of Horus that the "Asiatics" would come down into Egypt and destroy the Black Land. But, Horus would carry the message of the Holy Spirit to the maiden of the Crooked Serpent and tell her that the Holy Spirit desired that a nest be built for the sake of Life to Come. To the Old People there was a Sacred Honor that they knew to be the Parental Spirit, and they planned for the day when parents would deny children as the Day of Salvation.

The crux of the Astrotheology of Acharya S is that it is all a fantasy of the mind of man with mythological metaphors and allegories based upon a minimal experience of the heavens.

Astrotheology is the study of the astrological origins of religion; how gods, goddesses, and demons are personifications of astrological phenomena such as lunar eclipses, planetary alignments, and apparent interactions of planetary bodies with stars. Or even less wise, the Astrotheology of The Sacred Mushroom and the Cross of John Marco Allegro to wit, "Theology founded on observation or knowledge of the celestial bodies."

What never occurred to Acharya S is the possibility that the mythos of the heavens is the Word of God as revealed in the religions of man throughout the life of the species on the Third Rock from the Sun.

According to her autobiographical essay What Are Acharya's Credentials? There is no evidence that Acharya S ever connected any set of stars to form a constellation. Undoubtedly she has seen many images produced by the projections of the human mind back to the stars, but the Ancients did not project their perceptions to the stars, they received them from the stars. Acharya S is a scholar of great potential. However, she is also a bigot with regard to the anti-Christ group. It is not so much that she is an atheist, as it is that she is a rationalist that defines myths as non-historical fantasies. When we look at the Giza complex we see the Holy Spirit of Christianity coming down to build a nest on the Giza Plateau. We can discern the date of the construction and thus the history of the Giza metaphor from the historical record. But, what Giza reveals is a prophesy of the return of Horus to the Giza Plateau. It was not until the last decade, or so, that there was enough technology and recovered history of Egypt to demonstrate the design of the Giza Plateau as it relates to the stars. We need only ask and answer a few simple questions regarding the belt of Orion to determine if the Giza Complex reveals an historical record, or a myth. Does the belt of Orion move over the complete cycle of the Platonic Year as depicted? And, most importantly, does the little bird with the nesting materials fly toward the Great Tree in Pisces?

The evidence is beyond reproach that what the Egyptian Mythos said is both history and prophesy. The people who built the Giza Complex were real. They were the Sethians who fought the Horians and defeated the ancestors. But, because the Egyptians mummified their bodies, the souls of those ancestors will still be present when Horus returns to fly down the Grand Gallery on the reflection pool of Giza. These celestial Synchronicities prove that the mythos was flesh and that it can return from the heavens as flesh again. This is the whole purpose of Organized Religion. It is the Chaotic Religion of the Sethians that each individual is a separate entity. Individuals cannot create the greatest monuments to life that the Horians created. But, individuals who give their individuality to the Holistic Purpose can, and do, witness the Light of the World. That light came as the Body of Osiris over 5000 years ago when Egypt was founded. That light came at the end of the Hellenistic Age when Egyptian culture changed its name and became the Body of Christ. Those who are members of the Body of Christ understand the meaning of the Word becoming Flesh, for they share the same flesh and soul of their ancestors. Acharya S desires to have nothing in common with the Body of Christ, for she is a cohort of the other 72 Virgins who walked with Seth down to the River of Egypt and tossed the Bodily Experience of Man (Osiris) into a Stream of Consciousness where it has been forgotten for 4500 years on Giza and 2000 years in the Levant. Yet, if humanity should cease the selfish refrain, the veil in the temple will open and Man will again find the awesome glory that comes when the Collective Conscious restores the Collective Conscience that always was, is now, and always will be, the Destiny of History.

D.M. Murdock, also known as Acharya S, is an independent scholar of comparative religion and mythology from a "freethinking" perspective. She is the author of The Christ Conspiracy, Suns of God, Who was Jesus? and Christ in Egypt. Her work was featured in the movie Zeitgeist and Bill Maher's Religulous. Her main website is TruthBeKnown.com. <http://truthbeknown.com/>

Truth Be Known was created in 1995 by independent scholar of comparative religion and mythology D.M. Murdock, also known as "Acharya S."

Acharya's work is designed to bring to light fascinating lost, hidden and destroyed religious, mythological and spiritual traditions that reveal an exciting core of knowledge dating back thousands of years.

Eye Of Siloam Evaluation

Her work is worth the reading as a form of rationalizations, and has a huge number of references. However, she claims to be a Mythicist and that a Mythicist is between an Atheist and a Theist. But, her TruthBeKnown.com site fails to connect the dots. Unless a person connects the dots the consequence is rationalization of the elements of creation. Everything becomes the element air, the realm of Seth. For now, it is my contention that she is an academic attempting to bridge the demented state of atheism and the Spiritual Synchronicity of theism. Unless a person achieves Spiritual Synchronicity they are in the realm of Seth, at best, and Satan at worst.

God has favored our undertakings.

The new order of ages is thus born.

What is Spiritual Synchronicity? It is the state of being during which meaning communicates. It is the "Brilliant Eye" on the 13 Step Pyramid on the back of a US One Dollar Bill. It is St. Paul falling to the ground (as in coming down to earth), and of Mithras realizing that the conquest of the Great Bull means that Man is God. It is a woman becoming Heaven on Earth by the assumption of personal grace (Virgin of Guadeloupe). These are some of the many ways that humans have "pictured" the transcendental state between mortal and immortal existence.

In my experience, when we connect all the dots in the sky we discover an Incredible Truth. The Manna from Heaven is complete, as in perfected. No single constellation (myth) can provide this Eye of Brilliance. But, when all the stars are connected into the Holistic Tapestry the viewer is drawn to the same conclusion as a person watching classic theater---some one directed the production. The difference is that a human stage show does not compare to a Cosmic Stage Show in terms of it Totality. As far back as the records go in the human experience there have been Eyes of Brilliance that understood the Holistic Sky. Since Murdock did not connect the dots, she has found the joy of mysticism on the road between atheism and theism. She is at the adolescent stage when Jesus spoke of "my father's business."

Luke 2:48-50 (KJV)

⁴⁸And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

⁴⁹And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?

⁵⁰And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

The message of Luke 2:48-50 is that the academics in the temple destroyed the family of Divine Cognition. The family is that same family depicted by the three great pyramids at Giza; Father, Mother, Son. These three are the Trinitarian requirement for the Eye of Brilliance to give off the Light of Cognition after receiving the Light of Consciousness. They are the required ingredients for completion of the process of communication; Intent, Medium, Message. Murdock uses the symbols of mythicism without comprehension of them. She has an Eye of Consciousness without Cognition, and although her works show brilliance, she denies the Light of the World in her hand shake with Bill Maher.

John 6:57-59 (KJV)

⁵⁷As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

⁵⁸This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

⁵⁹These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

Murdock is correct in the origin of Jesus coming out of Egypt, but Jesus, the Cognition of Divine Intent, came down from Heaven as the Manna that fell on Egypt. When Moses led the Israelites up out of Egypt, he was taking the children of the Wandering Woman (precession of the equinoxes = Earth) out of the Abyss and back up to Zion, or the Highest Heavens. This Bipolar

State of the cosmos is evidence that the Creator was Bipolar. The two states of the Creator are Death and Life, Darkness and Enlightenment. Since Death is the realm of the Under World of Osiris and the Xibalbans, Moses led the Israelites to Life in the Elysian Field, which the Israelites usurped from all Mankind. Though bipolar, the Creator is Intent for Life, and God of the Living.

No one disputes that Moses got his religion from Egypt. The dispute is over whether Moses brought the Visible Truth out of Egypt or a Veiled Truth in the Laws of the Torah. Because Moses got angry at the foot of Sinai and broke the Laws of God, and then led the Israelites to the Water Carrier where he smote the Rock of Andromeda, Moses was buried at the San Jose Mine shaft. <http://www.eyeofsilam.com/Varanasi/SanJoseMine/index.html>

When we connect the dots at the San Jose Mine, we discover that Israel was the Horizon of the Aten, Akhetaten, and that Egypt was the Horizon of Osiris, where Moses was buried in the Tomb of Geb, Osiris, Ouranos, Joseph of Arimathea, etc. The Atenists were the first to say, L'Chaim.

With that knowledge and the Eye of Brilliance that sees the Holistic Cosmic Architecture, we are drawn to the conclusion that the Human World is turned up side down because it fails to realize that the Precession of the Equinoxes measures the forward direction of the Israelites, and that the Celestial Hebrews are traveling in the backward direction as they fall into Sol. The whole purpose of the Aten Cult and the Israelite Cult and the Christian Cult was to get the Children of the Wandering Woman (Mother Earth) to move forward in Time rather than back sliding into an inferno.

I suggest that this understanding places all of us on the Theist side of Mythicism. We can thank Murdock for her hard work, but she will be buried along side Moses and Hun Hunahpu as Jesus and Horus and Hunahpu ascend to the Land of the 72 Virgins with General Washington. Murdock's hard work did not lead to Trinitarian Brilliance of George Washington.

In correlating the 10/13/10 (33rd Degree) consider the San Jose Coal mine rescue and St. Mary MacKillup of Australia. <http://www.eyeofsiloam.com/Varanasi/SanJoseMine/index.html>

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier(s) points to the Heliacal Rising of Alnitak when it transits the 32nd Degree to 33rd Degree status. This is no accident. Likewise, the transition of the 33 Miners from the tomb of San Jose as the date transited 10/12/10 (32) and 10/13/10 (33) is no accident.

Zeitgeist The Movie

I have read the Zeitgeist work of a man named "Peter Joseph" and it is his contention that the Christian Dogma is a plagiarism taken from more ancient cultures. He and his anti-Christ advisor D. M. Murdock have the disestablishment goal of eliminating all religions and all forms of currency. They fail to comprehend that the Bible claims that the Israelites and the Christians both came out of Egypt as Joseph and Murdock project their false history onto the Bible. My perspective is quite simple. God came before Man. As a result, God created Man, not the other way around. As such, since God is ageless and not subject to matters of time except as they pertain to mortal consciousness we must assume that God spoke as soon as there were mortals capable of understanding. From this came our primordial senses.

Once we acknowledge this fact, then the relationship between the Heavens, the San Jose Mine rescue, and the canonization of St. Mary MacKillop, become united with Jupiter, Uranus, and the current Vernal Equinox. They all have one fact in common; Synchronicity.

In any form of communication there must be Synchronicity, or the communication fails. What is Synchronicity all about? Synchronicity is About Time and Timing. There is neither Cosmic Beginning Time nor a Cosmic Ending Time. However, Synchronicity and Mortality are identified by the Beginning and Ending of the Time Period when the Mortal corresponds with the Immortal. God is always in Synchronicity with God through the Cosmic Intent, the Cosmic Spirit, and the Cosmic Cognition, for they are the Trinitarian Eye of Cognition. We mortals experience very short periods of Synchronicity (alien abductions, apparitions of the Virgin, Sainly Miracles, etc.) The appropriate goal for any mortal is to extend Synchronicity for as long as possible. This requires an everlasting attention span, commonly known in ancient theological genre as Everlasting Life. The only thing that is mortal is the conscious. It becomes immortal when it transcends consciousness into cognition of truth during a period of Synchronicity.

We can extend Synchronicity beyond organic function by the Transcendence of the Holy Spirit within the Material Being (Mary) through miraculous Synchronicity. This is how the Catholic Church establishes Sainthood. Although each mortal can participate in Transcendent Synchronicity, the Catholic Church has assumed the responsibility of guiding mortals through the Portals of Synchronicity. This requires that the aspects of "Seshat Sorcery" be eliminated from the Canon in order to maintain Rational Expression within the Canon. When Seshat Sorcery is made part of the Collective Consciousness the consequence is the Medusa Effect of too many events getting tangled up in the Mortal Conscious. Seshat Sorcery is the power to give birth to consciousness without prior experience by learning new conceptions; virgin birth. When the Romans (Mithrasians) made the decision to establish a catholic order to the Empire, it was mandatory to reunite Man and Woman (Adam & Eve, Rational & Irrational, Great Square and Circlet of Pisces). Revelation 12 represents the process whereby the Romans took the power of Mithras and passed it to Jesus. Both were the Truth and the Light of the World. However, Mithras was Perseus looking toward Cepheus and Jesus was Aquarius looking toward Sculptor. Mithras was rational his goal of conquering the Upper World. Jesus appears irrational by giving the power of conquest to the Lower World. The Romans through Mithras followed the dream of Alexander the great and conquered all the Great Bulls of human civilization. Once the conquest was completed they realized that they had attempted to kill the Great Bull, El, the Paternal Creator. The Bull Slayer, Ahriman, was transformed into the compassionate and beloved son, Mitra. Mitra with the new name, Mithras, was shown at the instant of the "Enlightenment" that Saul/Paul witnessed on the road to Damascus.

Vitruvian-Man-Magen-David-Mithras

The Cross of the Son of Man was that the rational mind and the irrational body would have to be bound together in direct contradiction to the Laws of Moses. Moses came to establish the Rational Laws and to repress the Irrational Body, until the Messiah restored the Water from which the Egyptian Princes took him (abyss). The Ark of the Covenant is the Wall between Sculptor and Cepheus with the circlet of Pisces (irrational) and the square of Pegasus-Andromeda (rational). But in the Wilderness of Sin (Zin) Moses smote a rock (material, Andromeda) and gave water (Aquarius) to the Israelites of Galilee (four corners of the world, equinoxes and solstices) who were moving in the direction from Perseus (David, Joshua, Mithras) toward Aquarius (Jesus the 2nd Coming, Good Samaritan, Hapi, Messiah) through the Valley of Death of the Nazarenes (Pisces) in the Sea of Reeds. All cultures that descended from the Indian Rain Forests, in particular, the Mesopotamians (Men from Ur) learned the principle of the four elements of the Chaldeans. The Magen David and the Vitruvian Man are icons that acknowledge this reality.

To accomplish the feat the duality merging, the Mithrasians fulfilled the struggle between Mitra and Ahriman (Horus & Seth, Jesus & Satan, Moses & Aaron, Irrational & Rational). The Tauroctony of Mithras represents the united bodies of Mitra and Ahriman at the moment of the victory of Mitra when Ahriman goes to perdition. This is the moment in mortal life when we realize that Rational Selfishness (Ahriman, Seth, Satan, Aaron) is slaying the Great Bull, El, the Paternal God of the Israelites, et cetera because the Bull is not a whole man (Geb, Oranos, Jesus, etc.). Rational Selfishness in this form is simply the slaying of God by rejection of Synchronicity and failure to achieve sensitivity in communication with reality, e.g., a nervous breakdown. Since the face of Mithras is enlightened, he is the New Moses without the veil Moses wore to keep from blinding the virgin Israelites. At the instant of Enlightenment, Ahriman perishes. (For the Maya this was when Seven Macaw was defeated by Hunahpu and Xblanqua, meaning the death of arrogance.)

It is important to realize that Mithras is turning away from the Celestial Hebrew Scriptures that are written from right to left, which is the direction that the Celestial Hebrews transit the stars as viewed from Earth. Mithras is turning toward the Third Motion of the Earth (1st day, 2nd annual, 3rd precession). The Greeks came out of Egypt, as did all the Hebrews, yet they chose the precessional sequence over the planetary sequence in their written form. Undoubtedly, this struggle was still in existence prior to the 18th Dynasty of Egypt when the Shepherd-Hyksos conquered Egypt. But, the Giza Complex is a precession marker identifying the time of the coming of the Messiah-Hapi-Aquarius. As a result of all this evolving Astraltheology, it was the Jews and the Romans under Herod and Octavian (Caesar Augustus) who had the task of nailing man to the rational cross of the Vitruvian Man. That is scriptural perfection. Now, consider why it was necessary to force the Messiah to become a Rationalized form of Cosmic Man.

With these Struggles of Righteousness in mind, carefully observe the motion of Jupiter and Uranus in the following image on the San Jose Mine web site.

(<http://www.eyeofsilam.com/Varanasi/SanJoseMine/index.html>)

The image shows that Jupiter and Uranus are moving right to left. However, this chart was drawn as viewed from the San Jose Mine, and north is down. Thus, the movement is in the direction of precession to the left and both of the Celestial Hebrews are moving in astrological "retrograde" and cosmological "ascension." This is extremely important if we are to understand why the earthly mortals called the Hebrews write in the right to left direction, and why the Hebrews reversed direction in their migration through Egypt in the legend of the Exodus. The Exodus of the Hebrews resulted in the Greeks establishing the precessional script, while the direct descendants of the Father of the Hebrews (Abraham), the Jews and Muslims, stuck to the traditional message format of the Chaldeans. Also, there was the matter of astro-logic versus Cosmic Word. Finally, there is the focus on the End of the Age and the Number of the Years.

The Book of Daniel specifically identifies the Hand Writing on the Wall and the superior wisdom of the Israelites.

Daniel 9:2

In the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

Daniel 9:2 and the whole book is telling the Assyrians/Babylonians that their astro-logic traditions are not only illogical, but wrong headed. This is "scientific evidence" turning the whole journey of Western Civilization completely around. It is saying that retrograde motion is in the direction of the passage of time. The Israelites got this scientific knowledge during the sojourn into Egypt as alien laborers. The mothers of the Wandering Tribe failed to raise the "sons of the Men from Ur" with proper emotional maturity. The abandonment of Moses by his mother is a theological representation of the repressed emotion of the Men from Ur.

The slaying of the Stork under the Eight Point Star represent the repression of arrogant emotion (ranting and raving, etc.)

Thus, it was not the Israelites and the Mithrasians that Crucified the Messiah, it was the Men From Ur---shades of 9/11/01. The Mesopotamian sense of righteousness was rational, and excessive rational righteousness is the bond between the Great Red Dragon and the Harlot of Babylon. Nevertheless, when we see the Messiahs who have come into the world, they leave behind themselves a tempest---“O, My God”, Obama, comes to mine. The point is that the End of the Age will bring the Messiah who came as requested when he said, in John 2:4 (KJV), “Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.”

Pentecost

Here is the ultimate revelation obtained from the Zeitgeist Movie and The Christ Conspiracy. This won't come from the Ahriman-Satan led Peter Joseph or D. M. Murdock, for they simply repress all forms of Synchronicity as ignorant superstition as they drink from the cup of the fornications of the Harlot of Babylon.

John 20:17

Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God.

In the astrotheology, this is at the circlet of Pisces, and the Vernal Sun (Jesus) has just begun to rise. But, the Vernal Sun is not yet in Aquarius, thus the Bride of Jesus, Mary Magdalene (Seshat), and eventually Virgo to Bootes, is not allowed to touch him with her healing magic until it is so in the heavens that the Messiah has Come Again. The Nazarene was Aquarius, who came before his time and will return as the Divine Intent at the End of the Age.

John 2:3-5 (King James Version)

³And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

⁴Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

⁵His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

The first miracle of the Messiah is that he came in the vineyard at Pisces to convert the water to wine, as is the nature of the Vernal Sun when it shines in the spring. The First Miracle is that Aquarius came before his time with Inspiration in the Water. This was the ancient quandary of the Egyptian Creator when Ra asked concerning the torment of Isis, "Is it water? Is it wine?" The Messiah that the Israelites acquired in Egypt came when needed rather than wait for his appointed time. As a result, the Second Coming of the Messiah is the True Coming of the Messiah as Aquarius, as pointed out by the Giza Complex. We are living during the time when Mary Magdalene (Seshat) is telling the followers of the Anointed One (Christ) that the Invincible Sun has begun to rise but the Vernal Equinox, the measure "I Am," it is not at the Father's appointed location in Aquarius yet. Remember, the circlet of Pisces and the line to the Gordian Knot is the wand of Seshat. The Egyptians were forbidding the Followers of Horus (precessional journey) from acknowledging the Age of Aquarius until his hour had come.

John 2:18-23 (King James Version)

¹⁸Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the LORD, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

¹⁹Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

²⁰And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the LORD.

²¹Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

²²And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

John 2:18-22 is telling us that the Messiah was delivered by the Goddess of Conception, Seshat, who was always present at the initiation ritual of ever great temple in Egypt, and who was transfigured as Gabriel and the Holy Spirit at the Immaculate Conception of the Mother of Jesus. Remember the words of John 20:19, "when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you." The Sorcery of Seshat is that Aquarius, as a Good Samaritan, came through the Wall of Al Buraq (who had yet to be conceived as a Persian Messiah) into the House of the Nazarene. The Nazarene would have to die as the Son of Man until Truth Consciousness, Jesus the Nazarene, had returned to the Father, True Intent, and came back as True Cognition, the Love of the Father. Once a mortal sees the vision of Thomas Didymus, True Cognition arrives.

The closed door means that it is "magic" and it is a spiritual entrance (aliens, crop circles, San Jose Mine Rescue, canonization of Mary MacKillop, etc.). The "Peace" that the Messiah gives to all who leave the house of the "I Believe" is that they do not have material responsibility for the Cosmos, and the Cosmos is Heaven on Earth so that the journey to the Messiah ends when they are truly of the Age of the Nazarene and can say, "I Believe" with inspiration as tongues of fire.

The process is repeated before doubting Thomas Didymus in the same manner, because Thomas Didymus represents the first line (east) in Pisces. It is this line that reaches up to the Crucified Andromeda and enters the side of the Messiah, who is Aquarius before his time. It is this conversion that saves all the Children of Pisces, for the tears of Hathor are redefined by the return of Horus in the Reeds of Egypt above the Oxyrynchus Fish that consumed the phallus of Osiris (Cetus). The Reeds of Egypt are the Tears of Hathor and the Nazarenes in the vineyard of salvation of the falling Sun.

John 2:23-31 (King James Version)

²³Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

²⁴But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

²⁵The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the LORD. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

²⁶And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

²⁷Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

²⁸And Thomas answered and said unto him, My LORD and my God.

²⁹Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

³⁰And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

³¹But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

The lance in the side, and the four nails that are the Key of Heaven that converted Thomas Didymus when Aquarius came through the closed door as the Spirit of the Comforter in the House of the Nazarene. It was then that the Word was made flesh, “My Lord and my God.”

John 2:19 (King James Version)

Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

Given that the Giza Complex and the Ball Courts of the Maya all spoke of the return of Horus and Hapi as Fist Father risen from the dead, one fact is beyond doubt. This story has guided more humans than any other through the Age of Pisces, where some people see the Four Nails as the three headed dog of Hades. The fear of the Jews is a direct result of the inability to accept that the Messiah can come when the Messiah chooses. Thus, we have not lived in the cognizant Age of Aries (I Am) for the last two thousand years; we have lived in the prescient Age of Aquarius (I Know) because we were carried through the House of I Believe by a Savior born when the Man-Child on the Eagle came down to Earth in 1 AD. In that house is Gabriel and Seshat the Heavenly Hosts that cause prescient consciousness. Truth will become Divine Intent at the End of the Age. Yet, if we can follow Thomas Didymus and proclaim, “My Lord and My God,” we do not have to wait until the End of the Age to witness the coming of Truth as the Alpha and Omega. Alpha is Aquarius. Omega is Pisces. Both are the Savior, Cup Bearer and Nazarene.

Even if this were not cosmic history, it would be the Greatest Story Ever Told. Because of that, this story will not leave us until the stars have all gone their separate ways.
